TO A FINISH.

Will the Ohio Legislature Fight be Fought.

Each Party Will Contest in Some of the Very Close Counties—What a Few Votes Would Have Done.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—The contest for control of the legislature will likely be carried into the courts. The official returns of about one-fourth of the eighty-eight counties have been received by the secretary of state.

To the returns of close counties protests have been made. It is proposed now to prevent the issue of certificates of election to certain legislative candidates if the courts will so order. Today interest centers in the official counting at Bowling Green of the vote of Wood county. The republican plurality in that county for representative was reduced resterday to twenty-eight and today it is announced at twenty-five.

VERY SMALL MARGINS.

The democrats claim the legislature by a plurality of five. Including Wood county's representative the republicans claim the legislature by 75 to 70. If Wood county should be put in the democratic list by the official figures the legislature would stand 74 republicans to 71 democrats. While this is a mathematical majority of three, it is a constitutional surplus of only one. It requires 73 votes, or a majority of all the 145 members, to elect a senator on joint ballot.

With only 47 republicans in the legislature the death of a republican member or a republican vacancy from any cause would leave a bare majority, and if Wood county should elect a democratic representative there would no doubt be startling developments at once in at least two other counties. The proposed legal proceedings are believed to be in statu quo awaiting the completion of the official canvass of the vote in Wood county.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

There are ten counties in the state that give a plurality each of less than 100 on their respective legislative candidates and of these close counties both parties are almost equally the beneficiaries.

The republicans claim the following pluralities in three counties that have been most hotly contested: Delaware, 29; Noble, 85; Wood, 25. This is a total of 139 plurality for representatives in the three counties. A change of seventy votes properly distributed, whould have changed the Ohio legislature to 73 democrats and 72 republicans and perhaps changed the political complexion of the United States senate. It is what is at stake as well as the close shave that causes the managers of both parties to fight it out with every possible effort that can be made.

There were over one million votes cast in Ohio last year and it was estimated that there were 900,000 votes cast last Tuesday, of which the deciding seventy votes is an infinitely small per cent.

In Hocking and Vinton counties the democrats elect their representative by a plurality of seventy-five and by about the same plurality in Van Wert county, while in Summit county the democrats elect two representatives on pluralities that are said to be as close as those of Wood and Delaware counties.

A FEW VOTES WERE NEEDED.

The republicans claim that a change of less than 200 votes would give them four more representatives in the counties of Summit, Van Wert, Hocking and Vinton. The only trouble reported from the boards making the official vote yesterday were in Noble and Wood counties and those were simply animated discussions.

These official counts are proceeding in the counties again today. No disturbances are apprehended anywhere, but both sides will fight to a finish before the returning boards, then in the courts, and finally in the organization of the legislature.

Since the republican plurality on the state ticket has approached 29,000 no interest is taken in those returns.

THE WOOD COUNTY CASE.

Information was received at the state headquarters of both parties this afternoon that the republicans claimed the election of their representative in Wood county by twenty-eight and the democrats claimed their representative had a plurality of fourteen. When the board of elections took its noon recess at Bowling Green, the two democratic members of the board of elections refused to sign the official canvass of the vote of Wood county unless the vote of one precinct in Center township was thrown out. The vote of this precint makes a difference of forty-two votes on the Wood county representative. If this is counted the republican representative will have a plurality of twenty-eight, and if it is thrown out the democratic representative will have a plurality of 14. The county seat, Bowling Green, is located in Center township. The precinct in dispute includes that portion of the township outside the corporate limits of Bowling Green, but for the convenience of voters the polls were located in Bowling Green, just across the precinct boundary. The voting place is in the proper township, but not within the precinct, and it has been in the same place for five years without the legality of the location ever being questioned before. As it is believed the deadlock of two to two will continue in the board of elections, Congressman Burton, of Cleveland, and other attorneys for the republicans have prepared their mandamus case and will go before the circuit court this afternoon for an order to compel the Wood county board of election to sign the tally sheets, as they have been made out on the face of the returns. The republican counsel claim that no county boards of elections have any power to go beyond the returns and that the face of the returns give their representative a plurality of 28. In the event of the court not granting the order, it seems probable that the republican member from Wood county would be sworn in, as the republicans have a majority of six in the house without Wood county.

The official returns from Delaware county give the republican representative a plurality of 30, instead of 29, as claimed last night.

Hon. Charles R. Kurtz, who was chairman of the republican state committee in 1895 and 1896, says there is nothing whatever in the talk about certain republicans combining with the democrats to elect Governor Bushnell or any other man senator in place of Senator Hanna, who was endorsed by the last republican state convention for both the short and the full terms for senator.

Mr. Kurtz says no republican member could afford to bolt the caucus nomination and he says he does not believe that a single republican member could be found who would go into such a combine.

Kurts was defeated for re-election as chairman by Senator Hanna and admits he is unfriendly to the senator himself. This statement is believed to be the last that will be heard of the combine against Hanna as the republican senatorial nominee.

At the republican state headquarters the reports have never received any credence. They state that if they are assured of a safe majority on joint ballot, they have no doubt or concern as to what that majority will do.

IN ONE GRAVE

Lie the Venerable Dr. and Mrs. Mendenhall.

Both Live Over Four Score Years and for Fifty-Six Years Were Husband and Wife.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Angelina Mendenhall died this morning at her home, 316 West Twelfth street, aged eighty-one years. Forty-five hours before her husband, Dr. Elijah Mendenhall, had passed away at the age of eighty-two years. The husband and the wife were buried this afternoon in the same coffin, made double width, at Crown Hill cemetery.

They had been together through fifty-six years of wedded life. Both became sick Thursday morning of last week. A few hours after the husband's death his wife asked that she be allowed to see him once more before her death. When the coffin was placed by her bed she said: "I am glad that he is at rest."

Those were her last words. Dr. Mendenhall's body was to have been buried yesterday, but owing to Mrs. Mendenhall's condition burial was postponed.

For fifteen years Mrs. Mendenhall had said that she would not be present in life at her husband's funeral, even if he died first, for she would join him a few hours after his death. Dr. Mendenhall for many years practiced his profession in Cincinnati. The couple had four sons, among whom was the late Rev. J. W. Mendenhall, editor of the Methodist Review, of New York.

COAST DEFENSES

A Resolution Adopted Calling on Congress to Give the City Proper Protection From Foreign Foes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The New York chamber of commerce has adopted the following resolution:

"We, the chamber of commerce of the city of New York being fully impressed with the urgent need of an increase in number of the federal artillery force to properly insure the vast amount of property of our city and other sea coast cities against destruction and levying of contributions that would be visited upon us in the event of war with foreign nations do earnestly request and urge the president and congress of the United States to take such immediate action as will provide a force of trained artillerymen for the proper manning of our sea coast defenses and it is believed by us that 110 sea coast batteries requiring a numerical increase of the army of about 4,000 artillery men is absolutely necessary to accomplish these purposes."

TEMPEST TOSSED.

The Schooner Volvano Has a Stormy Passage.

A Heavy Sea Sweeps Away Her Compass, But a Skillful Mariner Brings Her Into Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—The schooner Volvano, only seventeen tons burdens, has arrived here after riding out a storm in mid ocean during which her compass was lost. Captain William Kissel succeeded in making port after a vayage of 1,100 miles with no other guide than the sun, stars and the trend of the currents. The northern California coast was sighted. Then an occasional glimpse of the shore enabled the skilled mariner to determine his way to the Golden Gate. The little vessel sailed from this city October 2 with salt and coal for Unga island, the intention being to leave the schooner in the north to ply between trading stations. On October 18, when 1,000 miles west of Cape Mendocino, a storm struck the vessel nearly wrecking her and sweeping part of the cargo and the compass overboard. The captain decided to return here and the manner in which he accomplished the feat is considered marvelous by seafaring men.

FIRE IN THE HOLD.

The Southwark in Danger of Destruction on the Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Red Star line steamer Southwark, which sailed from this port on Wednesday, bound for Antwerp, passed Fire Island at 10:30 a. m. today, bound in. She signalled: "Fire down in the hold amongst cargo."

The Southwark has forty-two passengers on board. The fire boat New York, in charge of Lieutenant Braisted, has gone to meet the Southwark. Two tug boats were sent to the Southwark by the American line.

The revival services now in progress at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ is among the most successful and powerful meetings ever held in the city. John J. Higgs, the evangelist and pastor, is preaching powerful and interesting sermons. Last night his subject was "The First Step to Christ." It was very instructive and full of Gospel truths. Two came forward and confessed their Saviour. There were some baptized at the close of the service. Tonight's subject will be "The Second Step to Christ." Come and hear these sermons on steps to Christ.

SEVEN DEATHS.

New Orleans Shocked by Yellow Fever Fatalities.

Believed to be the Last Gasp of the Contagion—Frost Causes Business to Boom.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 5.—The community was somewhat shocked this morning over the announcement of seven deaths from yellow fever by 10 o'clock. Though this number of deaths is large, it has not created any excitement, as it is generally conceded that it is the fever's "dying flicker," as one member of the board of health puts it. Five of these deaths have been expected for three days as they were given up by the physicians. Ony two new cases were reported up to the same hour. Business today is booming. The raising of the quarantine in all places where frosts have occurred has caused orders to come in, to the pleasure of the merchants, and all is activity in the mercantile districts.

The fever is on the rapid decline and by next week it is believed there will be not one new case.

FATAL WRECK.

Train Leaves the Track While Rounding a Curve.

Four Persons Killed and Many Injured by an Accident on the Chesapeake and Ohio in Virginia.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 5.—The Chesapeake and Ohio vestibule express from Cincinnati to Washington, was wrecked near Old Shadwell, five miles east of this place, yesterday afternoon. Four persons were killed and seventeen injured.

What Becomes of Old Bicycles?

"What becomes of old bicycles?" is a question that has been answered in a variety of ways. Perhaps the correct answer is that recently given in a cycling paper which says that they are made over and sold to persons who cannot afford to pay more than $20 or $25 for a wheel. The process by which this is accomplished includes raising the frame, enameling it, bending the handle bars, plating them, a new saddle, new tires, blacking the chain and gears, and nickel plating the cranks, seat posts and fork ends. Broken spokes are replaced with new, set screws attended to, and parts cleaned. Five or even three years ago this could not have been done for half what it costs for a $100 machine, and would not have paid. But the tubing in the frame is good and strong, the bearings all right if cleaned, oiled and trued, the frame joints firm, and much else is serviceable for years to come. The cost of making the bicycles over aced not exceed $7 each, and this leaves a margin of $7 when the altered wheel is sold for $20.

HOLLAND-HAWAII.

The Two Countries United by a Marriage.

The Crown Painter to the Dutch Royal Family Weds a Daughter of the Kaikilani Dynasty.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 5.—Holland and Hawaii were united yesterday by a notable marriage in St. Paul.

The "crown painter" to the Dutch royal family, a distinguished European artist was married to the daughter of Hawaiian Kings, a widow of remarkable beauty. The groom was Joseph Hubert Vos, of the Hague; the bride was Eleanor Kaikilani Graham, of Honolulu. Rev. Dr. John Paul Egbert, of the House of Hope Presbyterian church, officiated at the wedding, which was very private, only two personal friends and the two children of the bride being present. Despite a strenuous attempt to suppress all public knowledge of the marriage it was learned that Vos is one of Europe's famous portrait painters. During several years he has, however, resided in this country being recently located at Fort Totton, N. D., supposedly to study Indian types. Mrs. Vos is said to belong to one of the Hawaiian royal dynesties by virtue of her father's family. Her maiden name, Kaikilani, is alleged to be more than a distinguished name at Honolulu. Her former husband is believed to have been a planter of vast wealth. The position of the witnesses harmonized with that of the principals in this marriage.

Mr. Moffatt proved to be an ex-consul general of the United States in London. He served ten years, beginning his first term when James Russell Lowell was minister to the Court of St. James. Mr. Moffatt was also assistant solicitor of the state department under Secretaries Blaine and Frelinghuysen. He is now practicing law at Denver. The unknown witness came from Minneapolis. He is an intimate friend and chum of the groom. His name is Samuel R. Thayer, formerly minister plenipotentiary of the United States to the Hage.

Mr. and Mrs. Vos will start for Honolulu this afternoon.

BREAK FOR LIBERTY.

Two Convicts Make a Mad Leap From a Swift Moving Train.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 5.—William Moran, forty years old, and John Moran, his nephew, sixteen years old, were yesterday sentenced to the Erie county penitentiary from Westfield, N. Y., for car burglarly. Constable Driggs was detailed to bring the prisoners to Buffalo. They traveled on a fast Lake Shore train and when near Lake View the prisoners made a rush for the car door and jumped from the train. Both rolled down a steep embankment. A farmer noticed the men running toward the woods, shackled together, and notified the county police. The men were captured shortly afterwards. Neither had been injured.

G. D. M'LEAN DEAD.

Was a Millionaire Miner and Stephen W. Dorsey's Partner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—G. D. McLean, the millionaire miner of Grass Valley, Cal., died at the Lick house late last night after a lingering illness. He was attended by his nephew, William Blakey, of Evansville, Ind., who will take the remains east for interment. Mr. McLean was interested in many mining enterprises and with Stephen W. Dorsey owned the famous Maryland mine noted as a very valuable property.

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED.

The Steamer Three Friends Will be Peacefully Received at Havana.

HAVANA, Nov. 5.—It is semi-officially announced that there will be no trouble here upon the arrival at this port of the American steamer Three Friends, which is alleged to have taken part in filibustering expeditions and which is now bound to Havana on a ligitimate commercial errand.

Two Men Killed.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—By an explosion at the Illinois steel works last evening five men were injured, two fatally.

Fatally injured—Peter Hundt and George Koelski.

Seriously injured—Anton Zochceski, John Kutka, Albert Suckow.

Young Fair Retires From the Turf.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Chas. D. Fair, son of the late Senator James G. Fair, has announced his retirement from the turf. Mr. Fair has been a liberal patron of racing for several years but has met with nothing but hard luck. All of his horses will be sold.

Walcott Wants to Try It Again.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Joe Walcott's manager is trying very hard to get a return match for the black man with George Lavigne, at 140 pounds. Lavigne will not agree, however, to allow Walcott to weigh more than 137 pounds at the ringside.

Missionaries Murdered in China.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—The Cologne Volks Zietung announces that two Rhenish missionaries, Nies and Henle, have been murdered in the southern part of the Chinese province of Shan Tung.

A Millionaire Has Appendicitis.

GREENWICH, Conn., Nov. 5.—Henry O Havemeyer, who was operated upon for appendicitis at his country home at Palmer's Hill, near Stamford, last Monday, is still very low, although recovering slowly. At his house it was said he was progressing nicely, but no other information could be obtained.

COURT MARTIAL.

Spanish Government Will Try General Weyler.

His Confirmation of His Reported Speech Will Cause His Arrest—All Ports Watched for Him.

MADRID, Nov. 5.—The Spanish government, as a result of the deliberations of the ministers over the utterances of General Weyler, the former captain general of Cuba, has come to the decision to try him by court martial, no matter where he lands, if he confirms the accuracy of the press reports of his utterances. The commanding officers at all the ports of the Spanish kingdom have been instructed to demand of General Weyler, the moment he can be communicated with, the exact terms of the speech which he delivered in reply to the manifestation at Havana upon the occasion of his embarkation for Spain on Sunday.

The steamer Montserat, on which General Weyler sailed for Spain on Sunday, on Wednesday, as cabled to the Associated Press, reached Gibara, on the northwest coast of Cuba, with her engines disabled, and may be compelled to return to Havana, in which case it is not unlikely that there will be interesting developments.

A PRACTICAL TALK.

George D. Crane Addresses the Society of Accountants—Officers Elected.

Last evening was held the anniversary meeting of the Fort Wayne Society of Bookkeepers and Accountants in the Tri-State building. A large and interested audience greeted George D. Crane, who addressed the members in a practical way upon the keeping of books and accounts and gave many illustrations from his own experience as an expert accountant. His talk had many valuable points and suggestions which could not help but benefit his hearers. After he concluded his remarks the society proceeded with the annual election of officers, with the following results:

President—O. E. Carroll.
Vice-President—C. J. Scheimann.
Secretary—O. E. Quince.
Treasurer—G. C. Strieder.
Librarian—C. W. Boshler.
Chairman Board of Examiners—George D. Crane.
Chairman of the House Committee—George Waldschmidt.

George Waldschmidt was appointed to make arrangements for a smoker to be given by the society one week from next Thursday evening.

Martin Griebel, the lad who was recently operated on for appendicitis, at the residence of Mr. Spiegel, on Swinney avenue, has recovered and left for his home in the country. It was a remarkable case of recovery. The operation was performed by Dr. Maurice Rosenthal, assisted by Drs. Nieschang and McEvoy, and Dr. Vermuth, the interne at the St. Joe hospital.

WILL HAVE BANDS.

And Many of Them at the Corner Stone Laying.

Active Preparations for the Big Celebration—County and City Will Join Hands.

The committee of arrangements for the court house corner stone laying on the 17th inst. are in the midst of preparations for the event, and the lively spirit in which the city and country folk take hold of the matter betokens a demonstration of great magnitude.

Six bands from the city have been engaged. They are the Fort Wayne City band, Wayne Tent K. O. T. M. band, First A. O. U. W. band, Fort Wayne Cornet band, First Regiment band, C. P. Droegen's band, besides which several township bands will come in all their glory. With all this music the multitude can hardly "hear itself think," but music and patriotism go hand in hand, then why should we not have all the music possible.

Nearly all of the societies, civic and uniformed, will turn out, the schools will close, most of the industries will suspend operations for the day, and it will be the people's holiday, and a proud day for Allen county.

STRANGE MALADY.

Miss Elizabeth Weller Dies After a Short Illness.

Was Discovered in a Semi-Conscious Condition at Her Home Three Days Ago—Deaths and Funerals.

Miss Elizabeth Weller died yesterday afternoon at Hope hospital, where she was taken last Wednesday afternoon, after being discovered in a semi-conscious condition at her home, corner of Barr and Wayne streets. Miss Weller had been well up to the day previous to the time she was found. She acted very strangely and did not recognize any of her friends. Her case was diagnosed as heart failure. Mrs. Burehnn, a sister, and John Weller, a brother, survive her. Councilman Charles Weller is a nephew. The deceased was forty-six years of age. The funeral will be next Sunday afternoon, from the St. Paul's Lutheran church.

OTHER DEATHS.

Mrs. Ida Tinkham, widow of the late Dr. Clyde P. Tinkham, formerly of this city, died at Warsaw yesterday. Deceased will be remembered as Miss Naftzger.

The funeral of Mrs. A. A. Purman will be held tomorrow morning from the residence, at 11 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. Moffat officiating. Friends of the family will be permitted to attend these services but the burial will be private.

Mrs. Helena Schmidt, widow of William Schmidt, died of heart trouble this morning at her home, 231 Madison street. Her age was seventy-one years. Several children survive.

WANT POINTERS.

Trustees of Shirley City Search for Wisdom.

They Go Into the Archives of the City Building to Find Ideas for Their Town Government.

Robert Shirley, president of the board of trustees of Shirley City, is a guest of City Clerk Monning today and with permission of the city authorities is investigating the ordinances. He is gleaning therefrom such good laws as will apply in the government of his town. Mr. Shirley says that Shirley Cityites are living in peace and harmony now and have fully recovered from the bitter war waged some months ago when an election was held to determine what name the place should bear henceforth.

THREE CONTRACTS.

Work Let by the Board of Works Last Evening—More Sewers for Lakeside.

The board of works let the following contracts last evening.

Paving the alley in the rear of lots 1, 2 and 3, Baptist church subdivision, to John Draker, for 80 cents a foot.

Clay pipe sewer in the alley between Columbia and Edgewater avenues, from Tecumseh street to St. Joe boulevard, to Anton Reig, his bid being 39 cents.

Mr. Rieg was also awarded the contract for a similar sewer between Columbia and Lake avenues, at the same price.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The sidewalk bond of Louis Kohler and the sewer builder's bond of P. E Cox were approved.

The assessment rolls for the work of laying sidewalks on Ida street, from Metz street to the west line of the Electric Light addition and for the work of laying sidewalks on the north side of Allen street, from Calhoun to Clinton street, were approved and the work accepted.

The city engineer presented plans and specifications for a vitrified clay pipe sewer in the alley between Lake avenue and Rivermet avenue, and they were approved.

TALKED STONE.

Bedford Quarrymen Visit Fort Wayne.

President John R. Walsh, of the Company, Confers With Stewart & Company.

Today there was an important conference in the city concerning the stone being used in the new court house. John R. Walsh, president of the quarry company; Quarry Superintendent Herring, the members of the firm of Stewart & Co., County Attorney Barrett, Architect Tolan and the county commissioners met in the commissioners' room and at great length discussed the differences that have been delaying the work for some days. The result was something like an agreement that it is said will obviate further difficulty. Architect Tolan will, as a favor to the contractors, inspect stone at the contractors' yards in order that no expense may be lost in cutting stone that would be condemned.

Mr. Walsh is the president of the National bank, of Chicago, and was formerly the principal owner of the Chicago Herald. He stated to THE SENTINEL man that the stone first shipped here was from the top of the ledge and consequently much lighter in shade than that shipped later, due, he said, to the fact that the stone deeper in the ledge contained more moisture. It would all, he maintained, have a uniform color after exposure.

FOUND HIM GUILTY.

August Zollinger Sold Drinks to Young Girls.

Another Sequel to the Cases Against the Harkenrider, Frederickson and Trevert Girls.

This morning Mayor Scherer found August Zollinger, the East Washington street saloonkeeper, guilty of selling drinks to young girls and he assessed a fine of $20 and costs, amounting to $30.50. Mr. Zollinger stayed the docket.

This case grew out of the escapade of Minnie Harkenrider, Katie Frederickson and Reka Trevert, who, with male companions, went to the saloon and procured drinks last Tuesday evening. The girls and a traveling man who was with them were all in police court Wednesnay morning and were convicted of prostitution and associating. The girls were sent to jail until steps could be taken to send them to the reform school. The proprietress of the Hyer house, where the revelers lodged, was fined yesterday morning, and now that Mr. Zollinger has been convicted the mayor has completed a very effective job.

Gottlieb Hettler, who was charged with hurling a stone at Office Palmer, was let go this morning, it having been shown that bad boys had provoked the old man until in a rage he threw the stone at the boys, not the officer.

Officer Dickson picked up a weary drunk at the corner of Wells and Fifth streets today and sent him to the station. The prisoner was too drunk to give his name.

Mrs. John Luntz and her two children arrived from South Bend last night to join Mr. Luntz, who has been employed by Stewart & Co. as a stone mason. The woman found that her husband had left the city and she applied to the police station for assistance in locating him.

Mrs. Grace Reynolds, of 330 Force street, left home a few days ago, and her absence caused much anxiety to the family. She was found by an officer last night and was unable to give an account of herself. She was taken to her home.

THE REFORMATORY.

Fredericka Trevert and Katie Frederickson Sentenced.

Two Victims of the Road House Evil are Taken in Hand by the Court With Good Results.

This afternoon two victims of the road house evil, Fredericka Trevert and Katie Frederickson, were sentenced by Judge O'Rourke to the female reformatory. They are under sixteen years of age, and the sentence was imposed upon the application of their mothers. Officer Schlaudroff and a number of police officers testified to the bad characters of the girls.

OTHER COURT NEWS.

Judge O'Rourke has granted a decree of divorce to Etta Sherwin from Millard Sherwin.

David Burberick, Frank Burberick and Barney Pronger were arraigned before Justice Bullerman this afternoon charged with stealing a turkey at Woodburn.

Judgment in the sum of $2,833.86 has been granted Warren B. Phillips against August C. Trentman, et al., on foreclosure.

A SEAT in the Ohio legislature promises to be a good job.

THE most striking point in General Miles' statement concerning a plot to loot the Chicago sub-treasury three years ago is that he has kept quiet about it so long.

THE New York Herald has received from one of its readers, a philanthropist of national reputation, $250 for the widow of Henry George. The donor hides his identity behind the simple words, "A Friend," and accompanies his contribution with a glowing tribute to "the heroic author whose great heart loved all mankind and whose epitaph should be 'The noblest death that man can die is when he dies for man.'"

A KANSAS CITY mother has hit upon an excellent plan for getting her daughter home at satisfactory hours at night. She requires the last one in to arise first and prepare the family breakfast.

WILLIAM C. BALL, the veteran editor of the Terre Haute Gazette, has just finished the twenty-fifth year of his control of that bright and able paper. He is an ornament to the profession and all his brethren in the state will wish him success for another quarter of a century.

WEYLER'S bad habit of talking, and when he couldn't talk, of writing too much, has at last got him into real trouble. A court martial awaits him in Spain. However, there has got to be a scapegoat for the failure of the Spanish arms in Cuba and there is probably no one on the earth so naturally fitted for such an office as Weyler.

FRANK J. GRUBBS, former manager of the Indianapolis branch of the American Press association, has become the editor of the Lafayette Courier. He succeeds Charles K. Mavity, who has acquired an interest in and will edit the Muncie Times. Mr. Grubbs, the new editor, has had large experience in every branch of newspaper work and is an accomplished writer.

IT MAY seem strange, but it is nevertheless true, that alcohol regularly applied to the thrifty farmer's stomach will remove the boards from his fence, let the cattle into his crops, kill his fruit trees, mortgage his farm and sow his field with wild oats and thistles. It will take the paint off his buildings, break the glass out of them and fill them with rags. It will take the gloss from his clothes and the polish from his manner, subdue his reason, arouse his passions, bring sorrow and disgrace upon his family and topple him into a drunkard's grave.

THE campaign and the doubt which followed it are not the worst, by a long shot. Mark Hanna has entered upon a long and trying period. He will have suspense by day and bad dreams by night. He will be moist with sweat, his leg will be pulled and he then won't know whether his job goes on or his jig is up. The republicans may squeeze out a bare majority of the votes in the Ohio legislature, but that won't give Marcus a guarantee cinch. The knives that have been out for him all along will not only not be sheathed, but will be whetted afresh.

COURAGE.

ooooooooooo

The world is ready to applaud any man who has courage. No other trait of character so commands the admiration of all men, everywhere.

Every walk of life requires bravery of some sort to make it a success.

There is no other calling or business, perhaps, that requires the same amount of pluck, energy, grit and perseverence at the present time as does the retail Clothing trade.

It requires courage to be honest these days, courage to be truthful, especially when the advertising atmosphere is so heavily charged everywhere with exaggeration, falsehood and misrepresentation.

But we "would rather be right than be President," would rather have the confidence and good will of our patrons than be rich. Hence we mean to continue right along on the same broad, solid, sound foundation of uprightness, integrity and fair dealing. There is, however, something in our store just now that is more eloquent than words. It is our new Fall and Winter Stock; it is the neat, attractive, stylish and reliable Clothing that speaks louder than words. Particularly to those who can appreciate such Clothing. Hence our object in issuing this little address to tell you about it.

Read the lines carefully and then come and examine the stock. You will find, for instance, a big display of MEN'S SUITS, Sacks and Cutaways, all wool, fast color fabrics, stylishly cut, well tailored, and as perfect fitting as the best made. Your eyes will tell you, the minute you see them, that the Suits, Overcoats and Trousers are all that heart could wish. The Boys' and Children's department will attract your attention, too.

In fact, you will discover something bright, new and attractive everywhere throughout the store, and your own good judgment will convince you beyond a doubt that the prices are low—lower than you ever expected to pay for wearing apparel of equal quality.

We can't help feeling proud of the line, and you can't help feeling proud of yourself when you're fitted out. Just try it. Yours truly,

LEHMAN'S

An Imperative Duty.

The road-houses on the outskirts of the city are a public scandal. The community is not only disgraced, and the general morals of the city tainted, but the safety of hundreds of young men and young women is imperiled. Such places have no right to existence. The laws by which liquor-houses are licensed do not and never did contemplate the privileging of dens and dives of this low character. They should never have been licensed to begin with, but now that such mistake has been committed it should be rectified by the police, who have ample power and distinct justification to wipe them out.

The police are aware of the dangers which lurk in the road houses, they know the kind of men who are running the places and the character of the persons who resort there. They know, too, the sort of riot and revelry of indecency that is carried on. These points cover the ground. They arm the police with reasons at once sufficient and urgent for opening a campaign on the road houses.

Mayor Scherer can destroy these dens. He can mulct them out of existence. The law is violated in each of them a hundred times every twenty-four hours. Let the police secure the proof of this and let the mayor pile on the penalty. It can be done. It ought to be done.

Why isn't it done, Mayor Scherer?

The November Meteors.

An astronomical writer in the New York Herald gives the following interesting information about November meteors: "The feature of greatest interest on the astronomical calendar for November is the possibility of a brilliant display of Leonids on the 13th and 14th of the month. Once in thirty-three years at about this time in November a wonderful shower of meteors has been observed. The shower of November 12, 1833, is reported to have caused consternation among the ignorant negroes of the south, while it attracted attention the world over. The air is said to have seemed as full of falling stars as snowflakes in a snow storm. In 1866 Europe witnessed a remarkable display for some six or seven hours. The Leonids, as these meteors are called, because they seem to radiate from a point in the constellation Leo, are therefore due to return in force in 1899, but the earth will doubtless meet the advance guard this and next year, while there should be some stragglers in 1900. Unfortunately moonlight will seriously interfere with observations in 1899, while even this year the moon is between the full and the third quarter on the 13th of the month. In 1898 conditions will be more favorable. In any case it will be advisable to watch for Leonids this year, as there is an even chance of something spectacular. Leo does not rise until about midnight this month, so that the later the watch is kept up, the greater the probability of seeing the meteors.

Another well known meteoric shower due in November is the Andromedes. They are seen on or about the 27th of the month, and come, as their name indicates, from the constellation Andromeda. Every thirteen years they appear in unusual numbers, the last two times having been in 1872 and 1885, so that the period will be completed in 1898. It is by no means improbable, however, that there will be Andromedes enough to cause comment this year. Andromeda is above the horizon almost the entire night during November, so that the meteors may be expected at any time, although, as a rule, more are seen during the hours after midnight than any other time.

FOOT BALL AT HOME.

Kendallville Team Will be in the City Tomorrow to Meet the Home Club.

The Kendallville foot ball team will be in the city tomorrow for a game with the home team at Lakeside park. The Kendallville aggregation has been strengthened lately by the addition of two college men, which will make the game the more interesting. They recently defeated the South Bend team, but with the excellent coaching of the locals expect to more than make up for the strong individual work of the Kendallville boys.

CO-OPERATION

Is Needed in the Associated Charities Work.

Able Paper by Miss Hoagland Before the Members at a Monthly Meeting Held Yesterday.

The monthly conference of delegates to the Associated Charities was held yesterday afternoon in the room of the general secretary and was quite well attended. Mrs. Helen F. Guild, president of the association, presided. The question for discussion was "Co-operation—Advantages and Objections," and the paper was by Miss Merica Hoagland. The essayist stated that for a time she had not been especially impressed with the plan of charity organization, but as she studied and became more familiar with the methods of work and the objects to be attained her opinions had undergone a change and the conclusion was reached that the principles are feasible, practicable and a reform in charitable work that promises the best results. Registration, investigation and co-operation were shown to be indispensable to intelligent and effective work. The business of the Associated Charities is not to give alms direct—for this purpose it must have the co-operation of relief societies, churches and private individuals. The association must systematize the work of charity in the city; must look up the cases which do not come under the supervision of any particular society or persons—the transients, the class who will suffer rather than appeal for help, and ferret out and warn the charitable disposed against the unworthy and habitual beggar. Co-operation does not imply that personal charity shall cease. On the contrary, the Associated Charities urges this praiseworthy method. It only asks that the relations between the private giver and the association be so close and confidential that each may know what the other is doing and thus they may work together rather than overlap and duplicate, and thus defeat the noble purpose that charity is intended to subserve.

The paper was such an admirable presentation that a vote of thanks was unanimously extended to Miss Hoagland, together with a request that it be printed in its entirety in a Sunday paper, in order that all interested in charitable work may enjoy and profit by its reading.

The discussion which followed was participated in by Rev. C. N. Pond, of Oberlin, Ohio; Supt. Alexander Johnson, Rabbi Cohn, Mrs. G. E. Bursley, Mrs. Guild, Mrs. J. W. Hayden and others, and took wide range. The benefits of individual work, not only to the recipient, but to the one giving as well as the tender ministrations of the friendly visitors, occupied an important place in the remarks.

These delegate meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at 3:30 p. m., and the public is cordially invited. A splendid opportunity is afforded for all interested to familiarize themselves with the methods pursued in charitable work.

THE COMING BAND FAIR.

The Committees Having the Matter in Charge Will Meet Tonight.

This evening, at 7:30, the committees having in charge the arrangements for the First A. O. U. W. band fair, will meet at the rooms of No. 50 A. O. U. W. lodge, on Court street. The committees are composed of the following gentlemen. Band committee—J. E. Miller, W. A. Hall, Wm. Wolf, Frank Shreve and John Ake; No. 36 committee—Henry Brunkhart, Frank Purcell and C. A. Singrey; No. 50 committee—Emmett Dunfee, William Hilker and George Ellenwood. There is also a committee from each of the Degree of Honor lodges. It is desired that every member of the above committees will be present this evening as there will be considerable important work to do to get the fair properly under way. It is the determination of the lodges and the band to make this the most successful affair of the kind ever held in the city, and it will require the combined efforts of the committees to bring it about. The committee having in charge the procuring of a hall for the occasion have selected the hall in the White bank block as the most desirable place in the city for the fair. A committee consisting of G. H. B. Freeby, Chas. Evarts and Victor Kemp are also expected to be present at this meeting.

Treat Your Child Fairly.

The health of our children is a stubborn question. Some children seem to thrive under every adverse condition. Others with every care are sickly and weak and nothing seems to help them. They are frail, puny, constantly ailing.

Take your child to the greatest specialist in children's diseases. Dr. Greene, of Nervura fame, has discovered the most wonderful remedies for curing children. No charge whatever is made for consultation or advice, whether you call or write, at the office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 118 State street, Chicago, Ill. The success of these world-famous medicines in treating children's diseases is phenomenal, and your child should have this chance to be strong and well. Everybody admires healthy children, and no one has done so much to make children healthy as these marvelous medicines. Your child is entitled to health and this advice and treatment will build up and strengthen the weak constitution.

WOMEN IN NEW WORK

OCCUPATIONS FOR THE ENERGETIC AND RESOURCEFUL ONLY.

A New England Woman Makes and Sells Wine and Cordials. A Brooklyn Woman Makes Bread For a Living, and Another Runs a Bicycle Repair Shop.

[Copyright, 1897, by the Author.]

Elderberry wine is an old fashioned cordial out of which a New England woman is making a comfortable addition to her income. The story of Mrs. Serena Eliot is the story of many another energetic, resourceful Yankee. Left a widow with one delicate girl in a "shoe town" about 20 miles out of Boston, Mrs. Eliot has turned her hand to anything by which an honest dollar can be made in a small place without capital—dressmaking, nursing, running a machine in the "stitchroom" of a shoe factory, serving as cashier in the village fish market, etc.

MRS. SERENA ELIOT.

The cordial making was undertaken in the first place out of neighborly kindness. A patient whom Mrs. Eliot was nursing during one of the long periods when the shoeshop was "shut down" needed a gentle stimulant. Any of the ordinary wines was impossible because of heart trouble. The nurse raked out of her kitchen closet a book of family recipes used by her mother and grandmother before her and sent the children of the neighborhood out to pick elderberries. The simple, homemade cordial, as innocent as new cider, tickled the palate of the sick man. Some extra bottles were given to other invalids, and the fame of Mrs. Eliot's elderberry wine spread through the village.

There was no money in this or, except to a woman of unusual "faculty," any suggestion that there might be, but when requests for the wine began to come from a distance Mrs. Eliot laid her plans. It was too late to do anything more that autumn, but the next year when elderberries were ripe she had children gathering the fruit for her for miles around. The berries were easily picked and of no market value, so they cost her little. She could not afford to lay aside other work for such an uncertain experiment, and the wine-making went on in the morning and evening. She bought wild blackberries and wild grapes as well as elderberries. Currants she had in her garden. The result of two months' hard work was a stock of blackberry, currant and elderberry wines, grape and blackberry jams and grape, currant and blackberry jellies.

Mrs. Eliot's reputation as a nurse helped her to a small market for her wines and jellies. Her acquaintance in the shoeshops made it possible to sell jams and jellies to women who were too busy to make them for themselves. Her homemade "preserves" and cordials were placed on sale in the grocery stores and after a time in stores in nearby towns. There were a few summer boarders to be reached. The elements of profit, taken separately, were small, yet together they were not to be despised.

Business the second year showed a substantial increase. Cherries were added to the stock and wild raspberries. Orange and lemon jellies found sale as sickroom delicacies, and the distinctly old time cordials were re-enforced by gooseberry wine. Mrs. Eliot's daughter was able to help with the work, and little by little from being a side issue it became the mainstay of the family. This season is the fourth of the undertaking. There is no promise of a fortune. Prices have to remain low to suit the purses of customers, and the field is limited.

The cordial making is the unique feature of the business, and, while it is not the principal source of profit, it gives Mrs. Eliot a reputation and helps her jams and jellies to compete in a small way with the factory canned articles. Her success—for it is a real success—is interesting chiefly as an illustration of the fact that simple, homely ways of turning a penny are sometimes more effective than ambitious schemes, the invention of which has cost much brain thrashing.

Another illustration of the same fact is found in the experience of a Brooklyn woman who was thrown on her own resources with no other outlook toward independence than that afforded by a gift for breadmaking. The breadmaker lacked the vital energy of the New Englander and would not have thought of turning her one accomplishment to practical use but for the initiative taken by three or four friends who asked her to bake for them. They paid her the ordinary bakery prices and took pains to recommend the bread to acquaintances.

The neighborhood was unusually favorable. It included a number of families drawn together by old friendships as well as one of those clubs that have become social features in Brooklyn, taking in all the residents on a given block. This solidarity made it comparatively easy to introduce the bread scheme.

After three months the chief difficulty was the lack of oven facilities. The range of a small flat is not calculated to turn out work by wholesale. This trouble was partly overcome by the purchase of a large gas range. By dint of burning two fires the output was materially increased, but long hours and hard work were involved, especially at the week's end, to keep up with the Saturday and Sunday demand.

Certain delicate biscuit and rolls were particularly successful. So was Boston brown bread and Italian fig bread. Two little girls have been kept at school for some years on the proceeds of this modest enterprise, the only advertisement of which is a muscular small boy who pushes a handcart with a warm and fragrant load through the streets of a quiet up town quarter mornings and evenings.

Mrs. B. C. Miller keeps a bicycle repair shop on upper Broadway, Brooklyn. So far as heard from she is the only woman in Greater New York who is chasing the nimble dollar in this business. Her qualifications are a certain common sense in practical matters and a handiness with tools.

Mrs. Miller rides a wheel and takes four children out on the road with her. Five bicycles are almost enough to keep a repair shop going, but Mrs. Miller does not depend on the punctures and bent spokes of her own household. She says that from childhood she has enjoyed tinkering things, and that clocks and other objects have suffered from her desire to "see the wheels go round." But the bicycle gave her the chance of a lifetime. Here were wheels worth seeing. She took care of her own from the beginning, tended it faithfully with oil and graphite and was never tired of rubbing up her handle bars. Yet she was glad when a squeak developed or a pedal refused to spin, for then she could unbuckle her tool bag and pry into the bearings. When her husband entered the business she is now carrying on, she made it her business to watch him and his men, and one day, when a wheel with a punctured tire was brought into the shop in his absence she set to work and turned out a neat job of repairing.

From this time Mrs. Miller made the workshop her headquarters. She learned to take a bicycle apart or put one together. She became able to make handle bars, braze the junctions of tubing or lace a wheel. To lace a wheel is to put in the spokes and not to run the cords of the skirt guard, as might be imagined. Given the manufactured parts, she could assemble them and turn out a good bicycle. This apprenticeship proved its value when she opened a repair shop on her own account, and the venture has been successful. Mrs. Miller is to be found in the workshop oftener than behind the counter. She takes into her own hands the most delicate and difficult pieces of repairing.

Mrs. Miller is a slender woman, almost fragile in appearance. She has blue eyes and light brown hair. She looks out of her element working away at a foot pump or doctoring a sick pedal, but it is evident that she finds her work likable. In answer to inquiries she said:

"I thoroughly enjoy what I am doing. One reason is the novelty of the occupation; another is my enthusiasm for the wheel. Every bicyclist is a crank about bicycling, and I am no exception. I like to ride a wheel and to work among wheels."

MRS. B. C. MILLER.

Mrs. Miller does not ride double or triple centuries. She has never tried a diamond frame. She wears a moderately short skirt and rides without a chain guard in order to reduce weight and facilitate cleaning.

ELIZA P. HEATON.

Hearts to Be Worn.

Hearts will again be dangled from neck chains this winter. The latest heart is crystal, bound in gold, inclosing a four leaf clover in the middle. Another novelty is the introduction of a mirror into this modern acceptance of the once universal locket. Enameling of all kinds is again in broad favor and will be seen on these hearts in countless varieties. Many of the revived Louis XIV designs in jewelry lend themselves to the styles of the present moment, especially for brooches and corsage designs. Bangles of increasing amplitude are promised in the revival of old time fashions, which seem to be predominating at present.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Miss Agnes Slack.

Miss Agnes Slack addressed the general conference of the Methodist Wesleyans just before sailing for America. Three thousand people were present, and we are informed that Miss Slack "outdid herself." This is the first time that a woman has ever spoken before the chief body of that great denomination.

When you take up a task, do not ask any exemption from its hardships or obligations because you are a woman. Don't ask to have anything made easy on this account. So shall you win respect for woman's intellect and common sense.

"But the conditions of life on the Klondike must be hard."

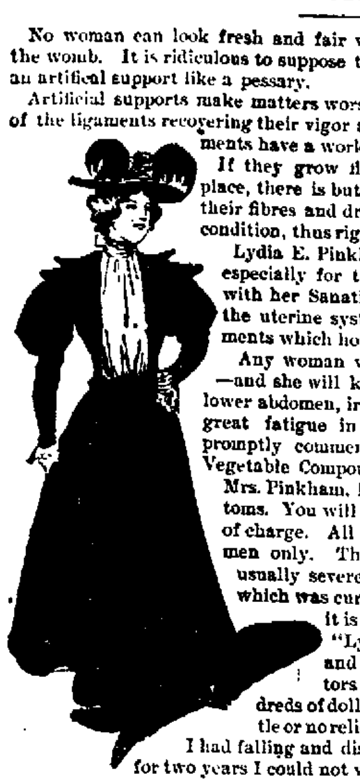
"Yes, even the milk of human kindness is condensed."—Chicago Journal.

DOCTORS HAD GIVEN HER UP.

A Convincing Letter From One of Mrs. Pinkham's Admirers.

No woman can look fresh and fair who is suffering from displacement of the womb. It is ridiculous to suppose that such a difficulty can be cured by an artificial support like a pessary.

Artificial supports make matters worse, for they take away all the chance of the ligaments recovering their vigor and tone. Use strengthens; the ligaments have a work to do.



If they grow flabby and refuse to hold the womb in place, there is but one remedy, and that is to strengthen their fibres and draw the cords back into their normal condition, thus righting the position of the womb.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is designed especially for this purpose, and, taken in connection with her Sanative Wash, applied locally, will tone up the uterine system, strengthening the cords or ligaments which hold up the womb.

Any woman who suspects that she has this trouble—and she will know it by a dragging weight in the lower abdomen, irritability of the bladder and rectum, great fatigue in walking, and leucorrhœa—should promptly commence the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If the case is stubborn, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn., Mass., stating freely all symptoms. You will receive a prompt letter of advice free of charge. All letters are read and answered by women only. The following letter relates to an unusually severe case of displacement of the womb, which was cured by the Pinkham remedies. Surely it is convincing:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier cured me when the doctors had given me up. I had spent hundreds of dollars searching for a cure, but found little or no relief until I began the Pinkham remedies. I had falling and displacement of the womb so badly that for two years I could not walk across the floor. I also had profuse menstruation, kidney, liver, and stomach trouble. The doctors said my case was hopeless. I had taken only four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and one of the Blood Purifier when I felt like a new person. I am now cured, much to the surprise of my friends, for they all gave me up to die. Now many of my lady friends are using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound through my recommendation, and are regaining health. It has also cured my little son of kidney trouble. I would advise every suffering woman in the land to write to Mrs. Pinkham for aid."—MRS. EMMA PANGBORN, Alanson, Mich.

A Lazy Man.

"I have been a great many years reaching the conclusion," she said, thoughtfully, "but I guess I may as well admit that my husband is the most indolent man alive."

"When did you discover it?"

"Yesterday evening. He punctured his bicycle tire. Instead of going ahead and fixing it he sat down for half an hour to see if it wouldn't get its second wind."

APHORISMS.

None but the brave deserve the fair.—Dryden.

Cultured and fine manners are everywhere a passport to regard.—Paley.

There is one body that knows more than anybody, and that is everybody.—Talleyrand.

Negligence is the rust of the soul, that corrodes through all her best resolves.—Feltham.

The two great movers of the human mind are the desire of good and the fear of evil.—Johnson.

Evil events come from evil causes; and what we suffer, spring, generally, from what we have done.—Aristophanes.

When we read, we fancy we could be martyrs; when we come to act, we cannot hear a provoking word.—Hannah More.

A little learning is a dangerous thing! Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring; there shallow draughts intoxicate the brain, and drinking largely sobers us again.—Pope.

Life is made up, not of great sacrifices or duties, but of little things, in which smiles and kindness, and small obligations given habitually, are what preserve the heart and secure comfort.—Sir H. Davy.

If you lend a person money it becomes lost for any purpose of your own. When you ask for it back again, you find a friend made an enemy by your own kindness. If you begin to press still further, either you must part with what you have lent, or else you must lose your friend.—Plautus.

FERRY DEAD.

A Former Fort Wayne Man Dies in Kentucky.

Locomotive Builders Said to Have Formed a Combination and Put Up Prices --Local Gossip.

News of the death of Frank Ferry at Henderson, Ky., reached the city this morning. Several days ago Mr. Ferry was stricken with paralysis, which resulted fatally yesterday. The deceased was for a number of years a passenger engineer on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road and while thus engaged he resided in this city. Eight or ten years ago he went with the McCracken brothers to Kentucky and was given the position of master mechanic of the Louisville, St. Louis and Texas road, which he filled up to the time of his death. The Fort Wayne friends of the deceased held him in high esteem and will be pained to hear of his death. The funeral will probably be held Sunday, interment being at Henderson.

A NOVEL ADVERTISEMENT.

A novelty in the way of an advertisement has just been gotten out by the Elektron Cycle company. It is an indestructible card constructed of celluloid and with its use a person can instantly determine the gear of a wheel. This card is in three parts, a disk containing figures encased in square covers in which are slots and figures to correspond with those on the disk. By counting the number of teeth on the rear and front sprocket wheels you can readily find a bicycle's gear by manipulating the disk in the card. It is a device which will be highly appreciated by wheelmen and one which they can carry in their vest pocket, the card being less than two inches square. This card was devised by Messrs. E. A. Barnes and F. L. Sessions.

MORGAN WILL BUY IT.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Between now and December 16, the date of the sale of the Kansas Pacific railroad, which has seemingly been abandoned by the Union Pacific reorganization committee, a syndicate will, it is reported, be formed, with J. Pierepont Morgan at its head, which will buy the road for the use of the Chicago and Alton. This road has a traffic contract with the Kansas Pacific road similar to the one the Chicago and Northwestern road has with the Union Pacific and it has found the Kansas Pacific almost indispensable as an outlet from Kansas City to Denver. The Alton has offered to lease it from the syndicate which is to secure it at the foreclosure sale and operate it, agreeing to pay the actual net earnings to the owners of the property. The Alton's offer, it is understood, is being favorably considered. The Vanderbilts are said to be anxious that the road should come under the control of the Alton as the latter is practically the connection of the Vanderbilt lines from Chicago and St. Louis to Kansas City.

BRIEF MENTIONS.

Pittsburg Car Inspector Shea is taking a week's lay off.

Wabash engine 43 has been repaired and turned out of the shops.

Nickel Plate Engineers J. Lindsey and L. Balzer are taking a few days' rest.

Fireman O. L. Shoaf, of the Nickel Plate, is attending the horse fair in Chicago.

Blacksmith Edward McLaughlin, of the Pittsburg shops, is off duty on account of sickness.

Herman Regel went to Portland this morning to look after some business for the Bass works.

C. W. Youtz, a carpenter employed in the Wabash shops, is off duty, nursing an injured foot.

Engineers William Doty and J. B. Lease and Fireman A. M. Slagle, of the Pittsburg, are sick and off duty.

Passenger engine No. 4, of the Findlay, was taken into the Pittsburg shops today for a general overhauling.

Pittsburg Engineer M. O'Brien has been granted a week's vacation, which he will spend visiting friends in several cities.

Master Mechanic B. Fitzpatrick, who had been suffering with a severe cold for a few days, is attending to business again.

The Nickel Plate's westbound passenger train No. 5 ran in two sections last night. Travel on that line is very heavy at present.

Enoch Cox's condition was not so favorable this morning. He suffers intensely and is unable to take and retain any food. He is afflicted with gastritis.

F. Rothenberger, a tinner, resumed his place in the Pittsburg shops this morning. He had been looking after some private business for several days.

J. M. Hughart, a brother to General Manager J. H. P. Hughart, of the Grand Rapids, spent a few hours in the city last evening. He was en route to Pittsburg.

John Edelman this morning resumed his place in the Pittsburg car shops, having returned from Peru, where private business engaged his attention several days.

Last evening Frank Thompson resigned a position at the Pittsburg shops which he held for seven years. He will conduct a grain and feed store on East Wayne street.

John Merriett, night caller at the Nickel Plate round house, has disposed of his bicycle and purchased a pony, which he rides when out calling engine crews.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

James Olive, jr., a machinist, has returned to the city and resumed his place in the Wabash shops. He was at Andrews for a month, working in the shops.

Chief Train Dispatcher Sullivan, on the Wabash, who has been very ill with typhoid fever recently, has so far recovered that he was at his office in Peru yesterday.

Capt. J. C. Kensill, the well known boilermaker, was operated upon this morning for abscess on the lower jaw. Dr. Van Buskirk performed the operation.

George Manmiller is in the Wabash railway hospital at Peru, suffering from the effects of a fall from a box car last Wednesday at Huntington. He is a brakeman.

Fred Tielker, night baggagemaster of the Pittsburg; George Duryee, train baggagemaster, and W. W. Wagner, dispatcher of the Grand Rapids, are in Whitley county hunting squirrels today.

The American Tourist association's special vestibuled train of Pullman palace sleeping and dining cars will start on the tour of all Mexico from St. Louis no January 18, 1898, via the Iron Mountain route.

John Slater, who was reported to be off duty arranging for the presence here of the Prince of Wales on corner stone day, was merely attending court as a witness. He resumed his place at the forge this morning.

The announcement of the Wabash's new time card is anxiously awaited. It will probably go into effect on Sunday, November 14, and rumor says that the changes will be greater than those of any time card in the past three years.

The understanding is that at the meeting of the passenger officials of roads in the Central Traffic association territory in Chicago next week the interchangeable mileage ticket will be so modified as to give the traveling salesmen less occasion for complaint.

While the Bass Foundry and Machine works has received no very large contracts for forgings and castings for several days, small orders have been so numerous that the aggregate is considerable and every department of the shop has about all it can do.

The Bass Foundry and Machine works is today shipping the material for a large stand pipe to Astoria, Ill., and next week several boilermakers will go to that city to erect the tank. The company has just completed a large stand pipe at Winamac, Ind.

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois on Monday received the first of the five heavy freight engines the Pittsburg locomotive works are building for that road. The engine proper weighs 176,000 pounds and is guaranteed to haul seventy-five loaded cars over the road.

Charles Thompson, a sawfiler, is lying ill at the home of his uncle, William Hamilton, on Butler street. Mr. Thompson has been employed for some time in a factory at Huntington. He was formerly employed in the Olds Wagon works, where he served an apprenticeship.

Peru Journal: "Supt. E. A. Gould is in St. Louis conferring with the general officials of the Wabash regarding the new change of time for a week from next Sunday. So far no changes have been made public. The officials are also arranging for their annual inspection tour, which is to be held this week."

John McKenna, who was for twenty-five years the master mechanic of the Indiana, Decatur and Western, retiring from the latter position two years ago, has been fortunate in owning a farm at Peru, Ind., on which three oil wells have been sunk and are bringing to him about $1,500 per week.

The employes of Rhinesmith & Simonson and the Anthony Wayne Manufacturing company were paid today. The amount of the disbursment was much greater than it has been for many months. The November earnings of the men will be still greater, if the present conditions at the shops continue throughout the month.

Wabash Tribune: "Fred Conner, who was injured in the Wabash railroad yards at Fort Wayne a week ago, arrived in this city yesterday and is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Conner. Since the accident Fred has been confined in the railroad hospital at Peru, to which place he returned today."

Yard Brakeman Baker, whose misfortune was mentioned in these columns a few days ago, is in a critical condition. A telephone message from the St. Joseph hospital at 2 o'clock this afternoon stated that Mr. Baker's condition was apparently unchanged from yesterday and that it was impossible to say what the result of his injuries would be.

Western roads have again failed to reach an agreement regarding the withdrawal of unauthorized freight rates. The Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf road refuses to discuss a settlement of the points at issue, except on the basis of it being allowed differentials, which the other roads refuse to entertain. There seem to be no means of ending the deadlock which now exists.

In its new passenger train the Lake Shore has introduced a feature which will be appreciated by patrons of the road. The dining-car is divided into three compartments, one of the compartments having six tables, with a seating capacity of eighteen people. Each of the other two compartments is constructed in such a manner that two or four persons can dine privately.

In tearing up a siding on the Straitsville division of the Baltimore and Ohio the other day, the section men discovered that several of the rails had been made in 1863. Subsequent investigation revealed the fact that these rails were part of a lot that were bought in England during the war at a cost of $125 per ton in gold. The rails were still in very fair condition, and for light motive power would last ten years longer.

John Sebastian, general passenger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, says he is confident that within a short time, with the aid of the executive officers, an agreement will be put in effect by the Western roads which will effectually and permanently stop the paying of excessive commissions on through tickets. For a long time the passenger rate situation has been badly shattered, owing to the payment of these excessive dommissions by certain roads.

It has created some surprise that the Wabash, after asking for bids on twenty-five new engines from the several locomotive works, after receving the bids, postponed ordering them, and it has leaked out that the bids from locomotive works were so much higher than previous ones of late and so near together as to make it evident that the locomotive works had formed a pool, consequently General Manager Ramsey concluded to let the matter rest for the present.

Harry C. Waite, son of the late C. C. Waite, for years president of the Columbus and Hocking Valley road, has been appointed general yard master of the Columbus and Hocking Valley at Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Waite was educated for a civil engineer, but has a desire to begin railroading at the bottom and work up. A railway official who knows the young man says he shows marked abililty in the railroad line and is anxious to make as prominent a mark in the railroad world as did his father.

You Hard Working Man That Toils so Hard to Earn Your Dollars,

WHY RISK YOUR MONEY

IN A GAME OF CHANCE?

Don't you believe you can buy a $10 garment for $2 or $3, or an $18 or $20 garment for $5 or $6, that is advertised by some of the humbug "ads" that have been imposed upon the good people of this city. Don't take chances of buying the shoddy trash offered by such houses, but buy your goods from legitimate dealers where you need not take any such Chances.

IF YOU WILL LOOK AT OUR

$5 All-Wool Suits and Overcoats you will not want any of the cheap stuff offered at the humbug sales.

$7 Will buy you an All-Wool Nobby Suit that the humbug sales cannot show you at all.

$8.50 Will buy you a Suit or Overcoat in strictly new and stylish patterns from us, so take no chances of buying a lot of old and out-of-date styles from these humbug sales.

Our Boys' and Children's Parlor is full of new things for little fellows from 3 to 19 years.

LISTEN TO OUR SONGS,

It will be a musical song—because it's about music. Have you a Piano in the house? Is it's action easy—does it send forth a rich, mellow tone, everytime it is touched? Is each note clear, clean and distinct? If you have, you own a good Piano, no matter what you paid for it. If you haven't you ought to have, and the easiest, quickest and safest way to go about it is to come here. We will give you honest value—we will tell you all the good points, and were the bad ones might be. For a little money we will give you a musical, durable pretty Piano.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

A new church at Auburn Junction will be dedicated Sunday, Nov. 14th.

Robert S. Ivins, one of the pioneers of Elkhart county was fatally injured in a runaway accident yesterday.

The commissioners of Noble county, actuated by recent lawlessness in that section, have purchased two trained bloodhounds. Sheriff Simon of the same county has also purchased a bloodhound.

The board of school trustees of Peru has requested the city council to authorize the issue of $15,000 of school bonds, the money to be used in erecting a new school building. The proposition will be favorably acted upon.

Ex-Auditor Frank Borst, his former deputy, Frank Dills, and ex-Treasurer Reuben Sawvel, of DeKalb county, and sent to the penitentiary last winter in connection with the official crookedness in that county, were taken from Michigan City to Auburn this week to testify in the McIntosh conspiracy case.

John W. Talbot, a young attorney of South Bend, was arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods and held under bond. The goods in which he is interested are alleged to have been stolen from the Baltimore and Ohio road, near Walkerton, last September. Talbot is married and was formerly in the office of Mayor Maybury, of Detroit, Mich.

The latest move in the controversy between the Dieterich natural gas syndicate and the city of Peru came yesterday, an injunction from the United States district court being served on Mayor Durand and members of the city council, restraining the city from enforcing the new gas ordinance recently passed. The case will be heard at Indianapolis on Wednesday of next week.

Profound astonishment was caused at Valparaiso yesterday by the announcement that Herbert J. Fish, one of the wealthiest and most prominent farmers of that county, living near the city, had attempted suicide by shooting himself. Mr. Fish is forty years old, and a widower. He left letters, but relatives refuse to divulge the contents. He was a prominent candidate for the Valparaiso postoffice.

Judge Horace Corbin, the oldest member of the bar of Marshall county, died suddenly at Plymouth yesterday. He was born in western New York in 1830 and removed to Indiana in the early '50s. For many years he had been a leading lawyer and at one time judge of the circuit and also the first mayor of Plymouth. He was an uncompromising democrat and took an active part in the last campaign for the silver cause. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, a Knight Templar and a member of the St. Thomas Episcopal church. He leaves a widow and five sons. The funeral to be held Saturday.

This has not been a good fall for clothing. Why? It has been to warm, to dry and dusty. But, never-the-less, we have sold more overcoats at $15 to $25 than we have in any one season before. How we account for it. People who two years ago would smile at the idea of buying an overcoat ready made, now walk in our store and say, "Let me see the best overcoat in the house." If the cloth in the coat suits them, and it fits, they buy it. We do not have to talk about the tailor work on the coat. Our clothing in the past three years has advertised itself.

TO A FINISH.

Will the Ohio Legislature Fight be Fought.

Each Party Will Contest to Some of the Very Close Counties—What a Few Votes Would Have Done.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—The contest for control of the legislature will likely be carried into the courts. The official returns of about one fourth of the eighty-eight counties have been received by the secretary of state.

To the returns of close counties protests have been made. It is proposed now to prevent the issue of certificates of election to certain legislative candidates if the courts will so order. Today interest centers in the official counting at Bowling Green of the vote of Wood county. The republican plurality in that county for representative was reduced yesterday to twenty-eight and today it is announced at twenty five.

VERY SMALL MARGINS.

The democrats claim the legislature by a plurality of five. Including Wood county's representative the republicans claim the legislature by 75 to 70. If Wood county should be put in the democratic list by the official figures the legislature would stand 74 republicans to 71 democrats. While this is a mathematical majority of three, it is a constitutional surplus of only one. It requires 73 votes, or a majority of all the 144 members, to elect a senator on joint ballot.

With only 47 republicans in the legislature the death of a republican member or a republican vacancy from any cause would leave a bare majority, and if Wood county should elect a democratic representative there would no doubt be startling developments at once in at least two other counties. The proposed legal proceedings are believed to be in statu quo awaiting the completion of the official canvass of the vote in Wood county.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

There are ten counties in the state that give a plurality each of less than 100 on their respective legislative candidates and of these close counties both parties are almost equally the beneficiaries.

The republicans claim the following pluralities in three counties that have been most hotly contested: Delaware, 29; Noble, 85; Wood, 25. This is a total of 139 plurality for representatives in the three counties. A change of seventy votes properly distributed, would have changed the Ohio legislature to 73 democrats and 72 republicans and perhaps changed the political complexion of the United States senate. It is what is at stake as well as the close shave that causes the managers of both parties to fight it out with every possible effort that can be made.

There were over one million votes cast in Ohio last year and it was estimated that there were 900,000 votes cast last Tuesday, of which the deciding seventy votes is an infinitely small per cent.

In Hocking and Vinton counties the democrats elect their representative by a plurality of seventy five and by about the same plurality in Van Wert county, while in Summit county the democrats elect two representatives on pluralities that are said to be as close as those of Wood and Delaware counties.

A FEW VOTES WERE NEEDED.

The republicans claim that a change of less than 200 votes would give them four more representatives in the counties of Summit, Van Wert, Hocking and Vinton. The only trouble reported from the boards making the official vote yesterday were in Noble and Wood counties and those were simply animated discussions.

These official counts are proceeding in the counties again today. No disturbances are apprehended any where, but both sides will fight to a finish before the returning boards, then in the courts and finally in the organization of the legislature.

Since the republican plurality on the state ticket has approached 29,000 no interest is taken in those returns.

THE WOOD COUNTY CASE

Information was received at the state headquarters of both parties this afternoon that the republicans claimed the election of their representative in Wood county by twenty-eight and the democrats claimed their representative had a plurality of fourteen. When the board of elections took the noon recess at Bowling Green, the two democratic members of the board of elections refused to sign the official canvass of the vote of Wood county unless the vote of one precinct in Center township was thrown out. The vote of this precinct makes a difference of forty-two votes on the Wood county representative. If this is counted the republican representative will have a plurality of twenty-eight, and if it is thrown out the democratic representative will have a plurality of 14. The county seat, Bowling Green, is located in Center township. The precinct in dispute includes that portion of the township outside the corporate limits of Bowling Green, but for the convenience of voters the polls were located in Bowling Green, just across the precinct boundary. The voting place is in the proper township, but not within the precinct, and it has been in the same place for five years without the legality of the location ever being questioned before. As it is believed the deadlock of two to two will continue in the board of elections, Congressman Burton, of Cleveland, and other attorneys for the republicans have prepared their mandamus case and will go before the circuit court this afternoon for an order to compel the Wood county board of election to sign the tally sheets, as they have been made out on the face of the returns. The republican counsel claim that no county boards of elections have any power to go beyond the returns and that the face of the returns give their representative a plurality of 28. In the event of the court not granting the order, it seems probable that the republican member from Wood county would be sworn in, as the republicans have a majority of six in the house without Wood county.

The official returns from Delaware county give the republican representative a plurality of 30, instead of 29, as claimed last night.

Hon. Charles R. Kurtz, who was chairman of the republican state committee in 1895 and 1896, says there is nothing whatever in the talk about certain republicans combining with the democrats to elect Governor Bushnell or any other man senator in place of Senator Hanna, who was endorsed by the last republican state convention for both the short and the full terms for senator.

Mr. Kurtz says no republican member could afford to bolt the caucus nomination and he says he does not believe that a single republican member could be found who would go into such a combine.

Kurtz was defeated for re-election as chairman by Senator Hanna and admits he is unfriendly to the senator himself. This statement is believed to be the last that will be heard of the combine against Hanna as the republican senatorial nominee.

At the republican state headquarters the reports have never received any credence. They state that if they are assured of a safe majority on joint ballot, they have no doubt or concern as to what that majority will do.

IN ONE GRAVE

Lie the Venerable Dr. and Mrs. Mendenhall.

Both Live Over Four Score Years and for Fifty-six Years Were Husband and Wife.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Angeline Mendenhall died this morning at her home, 316 West Twelfth street, aged eighty-one years. Forty-five hours before her husband, Dr. Elijah Mendenhall, had passed away at the age of eighty-two years. The husband and the wife were buried this afternoon in the same coffin, made double width, at Crown Hill cemetery.

They had been together through fifty-six years of wedded life. Both became sick Thursday morning of last week. A few hours after the husband's death his wife asked that she be allowed to see him once more before her death. When the coffin was placed by her bed she said: "I am glad that he is at rest."

Those were her last words. Dr. Mendenhall's body was to have been buried yesterday, but owing to Mrs. Mendenhall's condition burial was postponed.

For fifteen years Mrs. Mendenhall had said that she would not be present in life at her husband's funeral, even if he died first, for she would join him a few hours after his death. Dr. Mendenhall for many years practiced his profession in Cincinnati. The couple had four sons, among whom was the late Rev. J. W. Mendenhall, editor of the Methodist Review, of New York.

LOCAL LINES.

Mrs. Gus Rabus, who was down with typhoid fever, is convalescent.

George Stilborn, jr., son of G. W. Stilborn, who was down with acute appendicitis, is improving.

Mr. Baumeister, of Gay street, was removed to the St. Joe hospital last night. He suffers with obstruction of the bowels and his case is thought to be critical.

The Isaac Knapp Dental coterie held a meeting at the office of Dr. H. C. Sites, last evening. Dr. Sites read a paper on "Perfect Filling for Posterior Teeth." Dr. H. L. Porter gave a clinic.

COAST DEFENSES

A Resolution Adopted Calling on Congress to Give the City Proper Protection From Foreign Foes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The New York chamber of commerce has adopted the following resolution:

"We, the chamber of commerce of the city of New York being fully impressed with the urgent need of an increase in number of the federal artillery force to properly insure the vast amount of property of our city and other sea coast cities against destruction and levying of contributions that would be visited upon us in the event of war with foreign nations do earnestly request and urge the president and congress of the United States to take such immediate action as will provide a force of trained artillerymen for the proper manning of our sea coast defenses and it is believed by us that 110 sea coast batteries requiring a numerical increase of the army of about 4,000 artillery men is absolutely necessary to accomplish these purposes."

TEMPEST TOSSED.

The Schooner Volvano Has a Stormy Passage.

A Heavy Sea Sweeps Away Her Compass, But a Skilled Mariner Brings Her Into Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—The schooner Volvano, only seventeen tons burdens, has arrived here after riding out a storm in mid ocean during which her compass was lost. Captain William Kissel succeeded in making port after a voyage of 1,100 miles with no other guide than the sun, stars and the trend of the currents. The northern California coast was sighted. Then an occasional glimpse of the shore enabled the skilled mariner to determine his way to the Golden Gate. The little vessel sailed from this city October 2 with salt and coal for Unga island, the intention being to leave the schooner in the north to ply between trading stations. On October 18, when 1,000 miles west of Cape Mendocino, a storm struck the vessel nearly wrecking her and sweeping part of the cargo and the compass overboard. The captain decided to return here and the manner in which he accomplished the feat is considered marvelous by seafaring men.

FIRE IN THE HOLD.

The Southwark in Danger of Destruction on the Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Red Star line steamer Southwark, which sailed from this port on Wednesday, bound for Antwerp, passed Fire Island at 10:30 a. m. today, bound in. She signalled: "Fire down in the hold amongst cargo."

The Southwark has forty-two passengers on board. The fire boat New York, in charge of Lieutenant Brandel, has gone to meet the Southwark. Two tug boats were sent to the Southwark by the American line.

The revival services now in progress at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ is among the most successful and powerful meetings ever held in the city. John J. Higgs, the evangelist and pastor, is preaching powerful and interesting sermons. Last night his subject was "The First Step to Christ." It was very instructive and full of Gospel truths. Two came forward and confessed their Saviour. There were some baptized at the close of the service. Tonight's subject will be "The Second Step to Christ." Come and hear these sermons on steps to Christ.

SEVEN DEATHS.

New Orleans Shocked by Yellow Fever Fatalities.

Believed to be the Last Gasp of the Contagion—Trade Comes Business in Boom.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 5.—The community was somewhat shocked this morning over the announcement of seven deaths from yellow fever by 10 o'clock. Though the number of deaths is large, it has not created any excitement, as it is generally conceded that it is the fever's "dying flicker," as one member of the board of health puts it. Five of these deaths have been expected for three days as they were given up by the physicians. Only two new cases were reported up to the same hour. Business today is booming. The raising of the quarantine in all places where frosts have occurred has caused orders to come in, to the pleasure of the merchants, and all is activity in the mercantile districts.

The fever is on the rapid decline and by next week it is believed there will be not one new case.

FATAL WRECK.

Train Leaves the Track While Rounding a Curve.

Four Persons Killed and Many Injured by an Accident on the Chesapeake and Ohio in Virginia.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 5.—The Chesapeake and Ohio vestibule express from Cincinnati to Washington, was wrecked near Old Shadwell, five miles east of this place, yesterday afternoon. Four persons were killed and seventeen injured.

What Becomes of Old Bicycles?

"What becomes of old bicycles?" a question that has been answered in a variety of ways. Perhaps the correct answer is that recently given in a cycling paper which says that they are made over and sold to persons who cannot afford to pay more than $20 or $25 for a wheel. The process by which this is accomplished includes raising the frame, enameling it, bending the handle bars, plating them, a new saddle, new tires, blacking the chain and gears, and nickel plating the cranks, seat posts and fork ends. Broken spokes are replaced with new, nuts, screws attended to, and parts cleaned. Five or even three years ago this could not have been done for half what it costs for a $100 machine, and would not have paid. But the tubing in the frame is good and strong, the bearings all right if cleaned, oiled and trued, the frame joints firm, and much else is serviceable for years to come. The cost of making the bicycles over need not exceed $7 each, and this leaves a margin of $7 when the altered wheel is sold for $20.

HOLLAND-HAWAII.

The Two Countries United by a Marriage.

The Crown Painter to the Dutch Royal Family Weds a Daughter of the [illegible] Dynasty.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 5.—Holland and Hawaii were united yesterday by a notable marriage in St. Paul.

The "crown painter" to the Dutch royal family, a distinguished European artist was married to the daughter of Hawaiian Kings, a widow of remarkable beauty. The groom was Joseph Hubert Vos, of the Hague; the bride was Eleanor Kaikilani Graham, of Honolulu. Rev. Dr. John Paul Egbert, of the House of Hope Presbyterian church, officiated at the wedding, which was very private, only two personal friends and the two children of the bride being present. Despite a strenuous attempt to suppress all public knowledge of the marriage it was learned that Vos is one of Europe's famous portrait painters. During several years he has, however, resided in this country being recently located at Fort Totten, N. D., supposedly to study Indian types. Mrs. Vos is said to belong to one of the Hawaiian royal dynasties by virtue of her father's family. Her maiden name, Kaikilani, is alleged to be more than a distinguished name at Honolulu. Her former husband is believed to have been a planter of vast wealth. The position of the witnesses harmonized with that of the principals in this marriage.

Mr. Moffatt proved to be an ex-consul general of the United States in London. He served ten years, beginning his first term when James Russell Lowell was minister to the Court of St. James. Mr. Moffatt was also assistant solicitor of the state department under Secretaries Blaine and Frelinghuysen. He is now practicing law at Denver. The unknown witness came from Minneapolis. He is an intimate friend and chum of the groom. His name is Samuel R. Thayer, formerly minister plenipotentiary of the United States to the Hague.

Mr. and Mrs. Vos will start for Honolulu this afternoon.

BREAK FOR LIBERTY.

Two Convicts Make a Mad Leap From a Swift Moving Train.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 5.—William Moran, forty years old, and John Moran, his nephew, sixteen years old, were yesterday sentenced to the Erie county penitentiary from Westfield, N. Y., for car burglary. Constable Driggs was detailed to bring the prisoners to Buffalo. They traveled on a fast Lake Shore train and when near Lake View the prisoners made a rush for the car door and jumped from the train. Both rolled down a steep embankment. A farmer noticed the men running toward the woods, shackled together, and notified the county police. The men were captured shortly afterwards. Neither had been injured.

G. D. M'LEAN DEAD.

Was a Millionaire Miner and Stephen W. Dorsey's Partner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—G. D. McLean, the millionaire miner of Grass Valley, Cal., died at the Lick house late last night after a lingering illness. He was attended by his nephew, William Blakey, of Evansville, Ind., who will take the remains east for interment. Mr. McLean was interested in many mining enterprises and with Stephen W. Dorsey owned the famous Maryland mine noted as a very valuable property.

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED.

The Steamer Three Friends Will be Peacefully Received at Havana.

HAVANA, Nov. 5.—It is semi-officially announced that there will be no trouble here upon the arrival at this port of the American steamer Three Friends, which is alleged to have taken part in filibustering expeditions and which is now bound to Havana on a legitimate commercial errand.

Two Men Killed.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—By an explosion at the Illinois steel works last evening five men were injured, two fatally.

Fatally injured—Peter Hundt and George Koslski.

Seriously injured—Anton Zacharski, John Kutka, Albert Sockow.

Young Fair Retires From the Turf.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Chas. D. Fair, son of the late Senator James G. Fair, has announced his retirement from the turf. Mr. Fair has been a liberal patron of racing for several years but has met with nothing but hard luck. All of his horses will be sold.

Walcott Wants to Try It Again.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Joe Walcott's manager is trying very hard to get a return match for the black man with George Lavigne, at 140 pounds. Lavigne will not agree, however, to allow Walcott to weigh more than 137 pounds at the ring side.

Missionaries Murdered in China.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—The Cologne Volks Zeitung announces that two Rhenish missionaries, Nies and Henle, have been murdered in the southern part of the Chinese province of Shan Tung.

A Millionaire Has Appendicitis.

GREENWICH, Conn., Nov. 5.—Henry O. Havemeyer who was operated upon for appendicitis at his country home at Palmer's Hill, near Stamford, last Monday, is still very low, although recovering slowly. At his house it was said he was progressing nicely, but no other information could be obtained.

COURT MARTIAL.

Spanish Government Will Try General Weyler.

His Confirmation of His Reported Speech Will Cause His Arrest—All Ports Watched for Him.

MADRID, Nov. 5.—The Spanish government, as a result of the deliberations of the ministers over the utterances of General Weyler, the former captain general of Cuba, has come to the decision to try him by court martial, no matter where he lands, if he confirms the accuracy of the press reports of his utterances. The commanding officers at all the ports of the Spanish kingdom have been instructed to demand of General Weyler, the moment he can be communicated with, the exact terms of the speech which he delivered in reply to the manifestation at Havana upon the occasion of his embarkation for Spain on Sunday.

The steamer Montserrat, on which General Weyler sailed for Spain on Sunday, on Wednesday, as cabled to the Associated Press, reached Gibara, on the northwest coast of Cuba, with her engines disabled, and may be compelled to return to Havana, in which case it is not unlikely that there will be interesting developments.

A PRACTICAL TALK.

George D. Crane Addresses the Society of Accountants—Officers Elected.

Last evening was held the anniversary meeting of the Fort Wayne Society of Bookkeepers and Accountants in the Tri-State building. A large and interested audience greeted George D. Crane, who addressed the members in a practical way upon the keeping of books and accounts and gave many illustrations from his own experience as an expert accountant. His talk had many valuable points and suggestions which could not help but benefit his hearers. After he concluded his remarks the society proceeded with the annual election of officers, with the following results:

President—O. E. Carroll.
Vice-President—C. J. Scheimann.
Secretary—O. E. Quinen.
Treasurer—G. C. Strieder.
Librarian—C. W. Buhler.
Chairman Board of Examiners—George D. Crane.
Chairman of the House Committee—George Waldschmidt.

George Waldschmidt was appointed to make arrangements for a smoker to be given by the society one week from next Thursday evening.

Martin Griebel, the lad who was recently operated on for appendicitis, at the residence of Mr. Spiegel, on Swinney avenue, has recovered and left for his home in the country. It was a remarkable case of recovery. The operation was performed by Dr. Maurice Rosenthal, assisted by Drs. Nieschang and McEvoy, and Dr. Vermuth, the interne at the St. Joe hospital.

WILL HAVE BANDS.

And Many of Them at the Corner Stone Laying.

Active Preparations for the Big Celebration—County and City Will Join Hands.

The committee of arrangements for the court house corner stone laying on the 17th inst. are in the midst of preparations for the event, and the lively spirit in which the city and country folk take hold of the matter betokens a demonstration of great magnitude.

Six bands from the city have been engaged. They are the Fort Wayne City band, Wayne Tent K. O. T. M. band, First A. O. U. W. band, Fort Wayne Cornet band, First Regiment band, C. P. Droegen's band, besides which several township bands will come in all their glory. With all this music the multitude can hardly "hear itself think," but music and patriotism go hand in hand, then why should we not have all the music possible.

Nearly all of the societies, civic and uniformed, will turn out, the schools will close, most of the industries will suspend operations for the day, and it will be the people's holiday, and a proud day for Allen county.

STRANGE MALADY.

Miss Elizabeth Weller Dies After a Short Illness.

Was Discovered in a Semi-Conscious Condition at Her Home Three Days Ago—Deaths and Funerals.

Miss Elizabeth Weller died yesterday afternoon at Hope hospital, where she was taken last Wednesday afternoon, after being discovered in a semi-conscious condition at her home, corner of Barr and Wayne streets. Miss Weller had been well up to the day previous to the time she was found. She acted very strangely and did not recognize any of her friends. Her case was diagnosed as heart failure. Mrs. Burchan, a sister, and John Weller, a brother, survive her. Councilman Charles Weller is a nephew. The deceased was forty-six years of age. The funeral will be next Sunday afternoon, from the St. Paul's Lutheran church.

OTHER DEATHS.

Mrs. Ida Tinkham, widow of the late Dr. Clyde P. Tinkham, formerly of this city, died at Warsaw yesterday. Deceased will be remembered as Miss Naftzger.

The funeral of Mrs. A. A. Parsons will be held tomorrow morning from the residence, at 11 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. Moffat officiating. Friends of the family will be permitted to attend these services but the burial will be private.

Mrs. Helena Schmidt, widow of William Schmidt, died of heart trouble this morning at her home, 231 Madison street. Her age was seventy-one years. Several children survive.

WANT POINTERS.

Trustees of Shirley City Search for Wisdom.

They Go Into the Archives of the City Building to Find Ideas for Their Town Government.

Robert Shirley, president of the board of trustees of Shirley City, is a guest of City Clerk Manning today and with permission of the city authorities is investigating the ordinances. He is gleaning therefrom such good laws as will apply in the government of his town. Mr. Shirley says that Shirley Cityites are living in peace and harmony now and have fully recovered from the bitter war waged some months ago when an election was held to determine what name the place should bear henceforth.

THREE CONTRACTS.

Work Let by the Board of Works Last Evening—More Sewers for Lakeside.

The board of works let the following contracts last evening:

Paving the alley in the rear of lots 1, 2 and 3, Baptist church subdivision, to John Drake, for 80 cents a foot.

Clay pipe sewer in the alley between Columbia and Edgewater avenues, from Tecumseh street to St. Joe boulevard, to Anton Reng, his bid being 38 cents.

Mr. Reng was also awarded the contract for a similar sewer between Columbia and Lake avenues, at the same price.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The sidewalk bond of Louis Kohler and the sewer builder's bond of M. E. Cox were approved.

The assessment rolls for the work of laying sidewalks on Ida street, from Metz street to the west line of the Electric Light addition and for the work of laying sidewalks on the north side of Allen street, from Calhoun to Clinton street, were approved and the work accepted.

The city engineer presented plans and specifications for a vitrified clay pipe sewer in the alley between Lake avenue and Governor avenue, and they were approved.

TALKED STONE.

Bedford Quarrymen Visit Fort Wayne.

President John R. Walsh, of the Company, Confers With Stewart & Company.

Today there was an important conference in the city concerning the stone being used in the new court house. John R. Walsh, president of the quarry company; Quarry Superintendent Herring, the members of the firm of Stewart & Co., County Attorney Barrett, Architect Tolan and the county commissioners met in the commissioners' room and at great length discussed the differences that have been delaying the work for some days. The result was something like an agreement that it is said will obviate further difficulty. Architect Tolan will, as a favor to the contractors, inspect stone at the contractors' yards in order that no expense may be lost in cutting stone that would be condemned.

Mr. Walsh is the president of the National bank, of Chicago, and was formerly the principal owner of the Chicago Herald. He stated to THE SENTINEL man that the stone first shipped here was from the top of the ledge and consequently much lighter in shade than that shipped later, due, he said, to the fact that the stone deeper in the ledge contained more moisture. It would all, he maintained, have a uniform color after exposure.

FOUND HIM GUILTY.

August Zollinger Sold Drinks to Young Girls.

Another Sequel to the Cases Against the Harkenrider, Frederickson and Trevert Girls.

This morning Mayor Scherer found August Zollinger, the East Washington street saloonkeeper, guilty of selling drinks to young girls and he assessed a fine of $50 and costs, amounting to $70.50. Mr. Zollinger stayed the docket.

This case grew out of the escapade of Minnie Harkenrider, Katie Frederickson and Reka Trevert, who, with male companions, went to the saloon and procured drinks last Tuesday evening. The girls and a traveling man who was with them were all in police court Wednesday morning and were convicted of prostitution and associating. The girls were sent to jail until steps could be taken to send them to the reform school. The proprietress of the Hyer house, where the revelers lodged, was fined yesterday morning, and now that Mr. Zollinger has been convicted the mayor has completed a very effective job.

Gottlieb Hettler, who was charged with hurling a stone at Officer Palmer, was let go this morning, it having been shown that bad boys had provoked the old man until in a rage he threw the stone at the boys, not the officer.

Officer Dickson picked up a weary drunk at the corner of Wells and Fifth streets today and sent him to the station. The prisoner was too drunk to give his name.

Mrs. John Lantz and her two children arrived from South Bend last night to join Mr. Lantz, who has been employed by Stewart & Co. as a stone mason. The woman found that her husband had left the city and she applied to the police station for assistance in locating him.

Mrs. Grace Reynolds, of 330 Force street, left home a few days ago, and her absence caused much anxiety to the family. She was found by an officer last night and was unable to give an account of herself. She was taken to her home.

THE REFORMATORY.

Fredericka Trevert and Katie Frederickson Sentenced.

Two Victims of the Road House Evil are Taken in Hand by the Court With Good Results.

This afternoon two victims of the road house evil, Fredericka Trevert and Katie Frederickson, were sentenced by Judge O'Rourke to the female reformatory. They are under sixteen years of age, and the sentence was imposed upon the application of their mothers. Officer Schlaudroff and a number of police officers testified to the bad character of the girls.

OTHER COURT NEWS.

Judge O'Rourke has granted a decree of divorce to Etta Sherwin from Millard Sherwin.

David Barberick, Frank Barberick and Barney Prouger were arraigned before Justice Bullerman this afternoon charged with stealing a turkey at Woodburn.

Judgment in the sum of $2,833.86 has been granted Warren B. Phillips against August C. Trentman, et al., on foreclosure.

A seat in the Ohio legislature promises to be a good job.

The most striking point in General Miles' statement concerning a plot to loot the Chicago sub-treasury three years ago is that he has kept quiet about it so long.

The New York Herald has received from one of its readers, a philanthropist of national reputation, $250 for the widow of Henry George. The donor hides his identity behind the simple words, "A Friend," and accompanies his contribution with a glowing tribute to "the heroic author whose great heart loved all mankind and whose epitaph should be: The noblest death that man can die is when he dies for man."

A Kansas City mother has hit upon a novel plan for getting her daughter home at satisfactory hours at night. She requires the last one to arrive first and prepare the family breakfast.

William C. Ball, the veteran editor of the Terre Haute Gazette, has just finished the twenty-fifth year of his control of that bright and able paper. He is an ornament to the profession and all his brethren in the state will wish him success for another quarter of a century.

Weyler's bad habit of talking, and when he couldn't talk, of writing too much, has at last got him into real trouble. A court martial awaits him in Spain. However, there has got to be a scapegoat for the failure of the Spanish arms in Cuba and there is probably no one on the earth so naturally fitted for such an office as Weyler.

Frank J. Grubbs, former manager of the Indianapolis branch of the American Press association, has become the editor of the Lafayette Courier. He succeeds Charles K. Marity, who has acquired an interest in and will edit the Muncie Times. Mr. Grubbs, the new editor, has had large experience in every branch of newspaper work and is an accomplished writer.

It may seem strange, but it is nevertheless true, that alcohol regularly applied to the thrifty farmer's stomach will remove the boards from his fence, let the cattle into his crops, kill his fruit trees, mortgage his farm and sow his field with wild oats and thistles. It will take the paint off his buildings, break the glass out of them and fill them with rags. It will take the gloss from his clothes and the polish from his manner, subdue his reason, arouse his passions, bring sorrow and disgrace upon his family and topple him into a drunkard's grave.

The campaign and the doubt which followed it are not the worst, by a long shot. Mark Hanna has entered upon a long and trying period. He will have suspense by day and bad dreams by night. He will be moist with sweat, his leg will be pulled and he then won't know whether his job goes on or his jig is up. The republicans may squeeze out a bare majority of the votes in the Ohio legislature, but that won't give Marcus a guarantee cinch. The knives that have been out for him all along will not only not be sheathed, but will be whetted afresh.

COURAGE.

The world is ready to applaud any man who has courage. No other trait of character so commands the admiration of all men, everywhere.

Every walk of life requires bravery of some sort to make it a success.

There is no other calling or business, perhaps, that requires the same amount of pluck, energy, grit and perseverance at the present time as does the retail Clothing trade.

It requires courage to be honest these days, courage to be truthful, especially when the advertising atmosphere is so heavily charged everywhere with exaggeration, falsehood and misrepresentation.

But we "would rather be right than be President," would rather have the confidence and good will of our patrons than be rich. Hence we mean to continue right along on the same broad, solid, sound foundation of uprightness, integrity and fair dealing. There is, however, something in our store just now that is more eloquent than words. It is our new Fall and Winter Stock. It is the neat, attractive, stylish and reliable Clothing that speaks louder than words. Particularly to those who can appreciate such Clothing. Hence our object in issuing this little address to tell you about it.

Read the lines carefully and then come and examine the stock. You will find, for instance, a big display of Men's Suits, Sacks and Cutaways, all wool, fast color fabrics, stylishly cut, well tailored, and as perfect fitting as the best made. Your eyes will tell you, the minute you see them, that the Suits, Overcoats and Trousers are all that heart could wish. The Boys' and Children's department will attract your attention too.

In fact, you will discover something bright, new and attractive everywhere throughout the store, and your own good judgment will convince you beyond a doubt that the prices are lower than you ever expected to pay for wearing apparel of equal quality.

We can't help feeling proud of the line, and you can't help feeling proud of yourself when you are fitted out in clothing of ours. Yours truly,

LEHMAN'S

An Imperative Duty.

The road houses on the outskirts of the city are a public scandal. The community is not only disgraced and the general morals of the city injured, but the safety of hundreds of young men and young women is imperiled. Such places have no right to existence. The laws by which liquor houses are licensed do not and never did contemplate the privileging of dens and dives of this low character. They should never have been licensed to begin with, but now that such mistake has been committed it should be rectified by the police, who have ample power and distinct justification to wipe them out.

The police are aware of the dangers which lurk in the road houses. They know the kind of men who are running the places and the character of the persons who resort there. They know, too, the sort of riot and revelry of indecency that is carried on. These points cover the ground. They arm the police with reasons at once sufficient and urgent for opening a campaign on the road houses.

Mayor Scherer can destroy these dens. He can rout them out of existence. The law is violated in each of them a hundred times every twenty-four hours. Let the police secure the proof of this and let the mayor pile on the penalty. It can be done. It ought to be done.

Why isn't it done, Mayor Scherer?

The November Meteors.

An astronomical writer in the New York Herald gives the following interesting information about November meteors: "The feature of greatest interest on the astronomical calendar for November is the possibility of a brilliant display of Leonids on the 13th and 14th of the month. Once in thirty-three years at about this time in November a wonderful shower of meteors has been observed. The shower of November 12, 1833, is reported to have caused consternation among the ignorant negroes of the south, while it attracted attention the world over. The air is said to have seemed as full of falling stars as snowflakes in a snow storm. In 1866 Europe witnessed a remarkable display for some six or seven hours. The Leonids, as these meteors are called, because they seem to radiate from a point in the constellation Leo, are therefore due to return in force in 1899, but the earth will doubtless meet the advance guard this and next year, while there should be some stragglers in 1900. Unfortunately moonlight will seriously interfere with observations in 1899, while even this year the moon is between the full and the third quarter on the 13th of the month. In 1898 conditions will be more favorable. In any case it will be advisable to watch for Leonids this year, as there is an even chance of something spectacular. Leo does not rise until about midnight this month, so that the later the watch is kept up the greater the probability of seeing the meteors.

Another well known meteoric shower due in November is the Andromedes. They are seen on or about the 27th of the month, and come, as their name indicates, from the constellation Andromeda. Every thirteen years they appear in unusual numbers, the last two times having been in 1872 and 1885, so that the period will be completed in 1898. It is by no means improbable, however, that there will be Andromedes enough to cause comment this year. Andromeda is above the horizon almost the entire night during November, so that the meteors may be expected at any time, although, as a rule, more are seen during the hours after midnight than any other time.

FOOT BALL AT HOME

Kendallville Team Will be in the City Tomorrow to Meet the Home Club.

The Kendallville foot ball team will be in the city tomorrow for a game with the home team at Lakeside park. The Kendallville aggregation has been strengthened lately by the addition of two college men, which will make the game the more interesting. They recently defeated the South Bend team, but with the excellent coaching of the locals expect to more than make up for the strong individual work of the Kendallville boys.

CO-OPERATION

Is Needed in the Associated Charities Work.

Able Paper by Miss Hoagland Before the Members at a Monthly Meeting Held Yesterday.

The monthly conference of delegates to the Associated Charities was held yesterday afternoon in the room of the general secretary and was quite well attended. Mrs. Helen F. Guild, president of the association, presided. The question for discussion was "Co-operation—Advantages and Objections," and the paper was by Miss Merica Hoagland. The essayist stated that for a time she had not been especially impressed with the plan of charity organization, but as she studied and became more familiar with the methods of work and the objects to be attained her opinions had undergone a change and the conclusion was reached that the principles are feasible, practicable and a reform in charitable work that promises the best results. Registration, investigation and co-operation were shown to be indispensable to intelligent and effective work. The business of the Associated Charities is not to give alms direct—for this purpose it must have the co-operation of relief societies, churches and private individuals. The association must systematize the work of charity in the city; must look up the cases which do not come under the supervision of any particular society or person—the transients, the class who will suffer rather than appeal for help, and ferret out and warn the charitable disposed against the unworthy and habitual beggar. Co-operation does not imply that personal charity shall cease. On the contrary, the Associated Charities urges this praiseworthy method. It only asks that the relations between the private giver and the association be so close and confidential that each may know what the other is doing and thus they may work together rather than overlap and duplicate, and thus defeat the noble purpose that charity is intended to subserve.

The paper was such an admirable presentation that a vote of thanks was unanimously extended to Miss Hoagland, together with a request that it be printed in its entirety in a Sunday paper, in order that all interested in charitable work may enjoy and profit by its reading.

The discussion which followed was participated in by Rev. C. N. Pond, of Oberlin, Ohio; Supt. Alexander Johnson, Rabbi Cohn, Mrs. G. E. Bursley, Mrs. Guild, Mrs. J. W. Hayden and others, and took wide range. The benefits of individual work, not only to the recipient, but to the one giving as well as the tender ministrations of the friendly visitors, occupied an important place in the remarks.

These delegate meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at 3:30 p. m., and the public is cordially invited. A splendid opportunity is afforded for all interested to familiarize themselves with the methods pursued in charitable work.

THE COMING BAND FAIR.

The Committees Having the Matter in Charge Will Meet Tonight.

This evening, at 7:30, the committees having in charge the arrangements for the First A. O. U. W. band fair, will meet at the rooms of No. 50, A. O. U. W. lodge, on Court street. The committees are composed of the following gentlemen: Band committee—J. E. Miller, W. A. Hall, Wm. Wolf, Frank Shores and John Ake; No. 38 committee—Henry Brunkhart, Frank Purcell and C. A. Singrey; No. 50 committee—Emmett Dunfee, William Bilker and George Ellenwood. There is also a committee from each of the Degree of Honor lodges. It is desired that every member of the above committees will be present this evening as there will be considerable important work to do to get the fair properly under way. It is the determination of the lodges and the band to make this the most successful affair of the kind ever held in the city, and it will require the combined efforts of the committees to bring it about. The committee having in charge the procuring of a hall for the occasion have selected the hall in the White bank block as the most desirable place in the city for the fair. A committee consisting of G. H. B. Freeby, Chas. Everts and Victor Kemp are also expected to be present at this meeting.

Treat Your Child Early.

The health of our children is a stubborn question. Some children seem to thrive under every adverse condition. Others with every care are sickly and weak and nothing seems to help them. They are frail, puny, constantly ailing.

Take your child to the greatest specialist in children's diseases. Dr. Greene, of Nervura fame, has discovered the most wonderful remedies for curing children. No charge whatever is made for consultation or advice, whether you call or write, at the office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 148 State street, Chicago, Ill. The success of these world famous medicines in treating children's diseases is phenomenal, and your child should have this chance to be strong and well. Everybody admires healthy children, and no one has done so much to make children healthy as these marvelous medicines. Your child is entitled to health and this advice and treatment will build up and strengthen the weak constitution.

WOMEN IN NEW WORK

OCCUPATIONS FOR THE ENERGETIC AND RESOURCEFUL ONLY.

A New England Woman Makes and Sells Wine and Cordials. A Brooklyn Woman Makes Bread For a Living, and Another Runs a Bicycle Repair Shop.

[Copyright, 1897, by the Author.]

Elderberry wine is an old fashioned cordial out of which a New England woman is making a comfortable addition to her income. The story of Mrs. Serena Eliot is the story of many another energetic, resourceful Yankee. Left a widow with one delicate girl in a "shoe town" about 20 miles out of Boston, Mrs. Eliot has turned her hand to anything by which an honest dollar can be made in a small place without capital—dressmaking, nursing, running a machine in the "stitchroom" of a shoe factory, serving as cashier in the village fish market, etc.

MRS. SERENA ELIOT.

The cordial making was undertaken in the first place out of neighborly kindness. A patient whom Mrs. Eliot was nursing during one of the long periods when the shop was "shut down" needed a gentle stimulant. Any of the ordinary wines was impossible because of heart trouble. The nurse raked out of her kitchen closet a book of family recipes used by her mother and grandmother before her and sent the children of the neighborhood out to pick elderberries. The simple, homemade cordial, as innocent as new cider, tickled the palate of the sick man. Some extra bottles were given to other invalids, and the fame of Mrs. Eliot's elderberry wine spread through the village.

There was no money in this or, except to a woman of unusual "faculty," any suggestion that there might be, but when requests for the wine began to come from a distance Mrs. Eliot laid her plans. It was too late to do anything more that autumn, but the next year when elderberries were ripe she had children gathering the fruit for her for miles around. The berries were easily picked and of no market value, so they cost her little. She could not afford to lay aside other work for such an uncertain experiment, and the wine making went on in the morning and evening. She bought wild blackberries and wild grapes as well as elderberries. Currants she had in her garden. The result of two months' hard work was a stock of blackberry, currant and elderberry wines, grape and blackberry jams and grape, currant and blackberry jellies.

Mrs. Eliot's reputation as a nurse helped her to a small market for her wines and jellies. Her acquaintance in the shoeshops made it possible to sell jams and jellies to women who were too busy to make them for themselves. Her homemade "preserves" and cordials were placed on sale in the grocery stores and after a time in stores in nearby towns. There were a few summer boarders to be reached. The elements of profit, taken separately, were small, yet together they were not to be despised.

Business the second year showed a substantial increase. Cherries were added to the stock and wild raspberries. Orange and lemon jellies found sale as sickroom delicacies, and the distinctly old time cordials were reinforced by gooseberry wine. Mrs. Eliot's daughter was able to help with the work, and little by little from being a side issue it became the mainstay of the family. This season is the fourth of the undertaking. There is no promise of a fortune. Prices have to remain low to suit the purses of customers, and the field is limited.

The cordial making is the unique feature of the business, and, while it is not the principal source of profit, it gives Mrs. Eliot a reputation and helps her jams and jellies to compete in a small way with the factory canned articles. Her success—for it is a real success—is interesting chiefly as an illustration of the fact that simple, homely ways of turning a penny are sometimes more effective than ambitious schemes, the invention of which has cost much brain threshing.

Another illustration of the same fact is found in the experience of a Brooklyn woman who was thrown on her own resources with no other outlook toward independence than that afforded by a gift for breadmaking. The breadmaker lacked the vital energy of the New Englander and would not have thought of turning her one accomplishment to practical use but for the initiative taken by three or four friends who asked her to bake for them. They paid her the ordinary bakery prices and took pains to recommend the bread to acquaintances.

The neighborhood was unusually favorable. It included a number of families drawn together by old friendships as well as one of those clubs that have become social features in Brooklyn, taking in all the residents on a given block. This intimacy made it comparatively easy to introduce the bread scheme.

After three months the chief difficulty was the lack of oven facilities. The range of a small flat is not calculated to turn out work by wholesale. This trouble was partly overcome by the purchase of a large gas range. By dint of turning two ovens the output was materially increased, but long hours and hard work were involved, especially as the week went on, to keep up with the Saturday and Sunday demand.

Certain delicate breads and rolls were particularly successful. So was Boston brown bread and Italian fig bread. Two little girls are being kept at school for some years on the proceeds of this modest enterprise, the only advertisement of which is a nine year old boy who passes a basket with a warm and fragrant load through the streets of a quiet up town quarter mornings and evenings.

Mrs. E. C. Miller keeps a bicycle repair shop on upper Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn. So far as heard from she is the only woman in Greater New York who is chasing the nimble dollar in this business. Her qualifications are a certain common sense in practical matters and a handiness with tools.

Mrs. Miller rides a wheel and takes four children out on the road with her. Five bicycles are almost enough to keep a repair shop going, but Mrs. Miller does not depend on the punctures and bent spokes of her own household. She says that from childhood she has enjoyed tinkering things, and that clocks and other objects have suffered from her desire to "see the wheels go round." But the bicycle gave her the chance of a lifetime. Here were wheels worth seeing. She took care of her own from the beginning, tended it faithfully with oil and graphite and was never tired of rubbing up her handle bars. Yet she was glad when a squeak developed or a pedal refused to spin, for then she could unbuckle her tool bag and pry into the bearings. When her husband entered the business she is now carrying on, she made it her business to watch him and his men, and one day, when a wheel with a punctured tire was brought into the shop in his absence she set to work and turned out a neat job of repairing.

From this time Mrs. Miller made the workshop her headquarters. She learned to take a bicycle apart or put one together. She became able to make handle bars, braze the junctions of tubing or lace a wheel. To lace a wheel is to put in the spokes and not to run the cords of the skirt guard, as might be imagined. Given the manufactured parts, she could assemble them and turn out a good bicycle. This apprenticeship proved its value when she opened a repair shop on her own account, and the venture has been successful. Mrs. Miller is to be found in the workshop oftener than behind the counter. She takes into her own hands the most delicate and difficult pieces of repairing.

Mrs. Miller is a slender woman, almost fragile in appearance. She has blue eyes and light brown hair. She looks out of her element working away at a foot pump or drawing a crank pedal, but it is evident that she finds her work likable. In answer to a question she said:

"I thoroughly enjoy what I am doing. One reason is the novelty of the occupation; another is my enthusiasm for the wheel. Every bicyclist is a crank about bicycling, and I am no exception. I like to ride a wheel and to work among wheels."

MRS. E. C. MILLER.

Mrs. Miller does not ride double or triple contrivances. She has never tried a diamond frame. She wears a moderately short skirt and rides without a chain guard in order to reduce weight and facilitate cleaning.

Hearts to Be Worn.

Hearts will again be dangled from neck chains this winter. The latest heart is crystal, bound in gold, inclosing a four leaf clover in the middle. Another novelty is the combination of a mirror with the modern reproduction of the once universal locket. Pinchbeck of all kinds is again in favor and will be seen on these hearts in countless varieties. Many of the revived Louis XIV designs in jewelry lend themselves to the styles of the present moment, especially for brooches and pendant designs. Bangles of moderate magnitude are promised in the revival of old time fashions, which seem to be predominating at present.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Miss Agnes Slack.

Miss Agnes Slack addressed the general conference of the Methodist Wesleyans just before sailing for America. Three thousand people were present, and we are informed that Miss Slack "excelled herself." This is the first time that a woman has ever spoken before the chief body of that great denomination.

When you take up a task, do not ask any exemption from its hardships or obligations because you are a woman. Don't seek to have anything made easy on that account. So shall you win respect for womanly excellence and common sense.

"But the conditions of life on the Klondike must be hard."

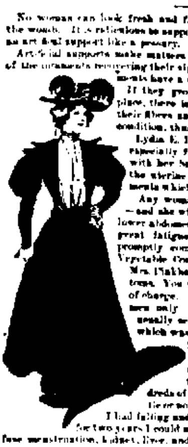
"Yes, even the milk of human kindness is condensed."—Chicago Journal.

DOCTORS HAD GIVEN HER UP.

A Convincing Letter From One of Mrs. Pinkham's Admirers.

No woman can look fresh and fair who is suffering from displacement of the womb. It is ridiculous to suppose that such a difficulty can be cured by an artificial support like a pessary.

Artificial supports make matters worse, for they take away all the chance of the ligaments recovering their vigor and tone. Use strengthens; the ligaments have a work to do.



If they grow flabby and refuse to hold the womb in place, there is but one remedy, and that is to strengthen their fibres and draw the cords back into their normal condition, thus righting the position of the womb.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is designed especially for this purpose, and, taken in connection with her Sanative Wash, applied locally, will tone up the uterine system, strengthening the cords or ligaments which hold up the womb.

Any woman who suspects that she has this trouble—and she will know it by a dragging weight in the lower abdomen, irritability of the bladder and rectum, great fatigue in walking, and leucorrhoea—should promptly commence the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If the case is stubborn, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., stating freely all symptoms. You will receive a prompt letter of advice free of charge. All letters are read and answered by women only. The following letter relates to an unusually severe case of displacement of the womb, which was cured by the Pinkham remedies. Surely it is convincing:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier cured me when the doctors had given me up. I had spent hundreds of dollars searching for a cure, but found little or no relief until I began the Pinkham remedies. I had falling and displacement of the womb so badly that for two years I could not walk across the floor. I also had profuse menstruation, kidney, liver, and stomach trouble. The doctors said my case was hopeless. I had taken only four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and one of the Blood Purifier when I felt like a new person. I am now cured, much to the surprise of my friends, for they all gave me up to die. Now many of my lady friends are using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound through my recommendation, and are regaining health. It has also cured my little son of kidney trouble. I would advise every suffering woman in the land to write to Mrs. Pinkham for aid."—Mrs. Emma Parkman, Alanson, Mich.

A Lazy Man.

"I have been a great many years reaching the conclusion," she said thoughtfully, "but I guess I may as well admit that my husband is the most indolent man alive."

"When did you discover it?"

"Yesterday evening. He punctured his bicycle tire. Instead of going ahead and fixing it he sat down for half an hour to see if it wouldn't get its second wind."

FERRY DEAD.

A Former Fort Wayne Man Dies in Kentucky.

Locomotive Builders Said to Have Formed a Combination and Put Up Prices—Local Gossip.

News of the death of Frank Ferry at Henderson, Ky., reached the city this morning. Several days ago Mr. Ferry was stricken with paralysis, which resulted fatally yesterday. The deceased was for a number of years a passenger engineer on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road and while thus engaged he resided in this city. Eight or ten years ago he went with the McCracken brothers to Kentucky and was given the position of master mechanic of the Louisville, St. Louis and Texas road, which he filled up to the time of his death. The Fort Wayne friends of the deceased held him in high esteem and will be pained to hear of his death. The funeral will probably be held Sunday, interment being at Henderson.

A NOVEL ADVERTISEMENT.

A novelty in the way of an advertisement has just been gotten out by the Elektron Cycle company. It is an indestructible card constructed of celluloid and with its use a person can instantly determine the gear of a wheel. This card is in three parts, a disk containing figures encased in square covers in which are slots and figures to correspond with those on the disk. By counting the number of teeth on the rear and front sprocket wheels you can readily find a bicycle's gear by manipulating the disk in the card. It is a device which will be highly appreciated by wheelmen and one which they can carry in their vest pocket, the card being less than two inches square. This card was devised by Messrs. E. A. Barnes and F. L. Sessions.

MORGAN WILL BUY IT.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Between now and December 16, the date of the sale of the Kansas Pacific railroad, which has seemingly been abandoned by the Union Pacific reorganization committee, a syndicate will, it is reported, be formed, with J. Pierpont Morgan at its head, which will buy the road for the use of the Chicago and Alton. This road has a traffic contract with the Kansas Pacific road similar to the one the Chicago and Northwestern road has with the Union Pacific and it has found the Kansas Pacific almost indispensable as an outlet from Kansas City to Denver. The Alton has offered to lease it from the syndicate which is to secure it at the foreclosure sale and operate it, agreeing to pay the actual net earnings to the owners of the property. The Alton's offer, it is understood, is being favorably considered. The Vanderbilts are said to be anxious that the road should come under the control of the Alton as the latter is practically the connection of the Vanderbilt lines from Chicago and St. Louis to Kansas City.

BRIEF MENTIONS.

Pittsburg Car Inspector Shea is taking a week's lay off.

Wabash engine 43 has been repaired and turned out of the shops.

Nickel Plate Engineers J. Lindley and L. Bulmer are taking a few days' rest.

Fireman O. L. Shoaf, of the Nickel Plate, is attending the horse fair in Chicago.

Blacksmith Edward McLaughlin, of the Pittsburg shops, is off duty on account of sickness.

Herman Regel went to Portland this morning to look after some business for the Bass works.

C. W. Yontz, a carpenter employed in the Wabash shops, is off duty, nursing an injured foot.

Engineers William Doty and J. B. Louse and Fireman A. M. Flagle, of the Pittsburg, are sick and off duty.

Passenger engine No. 4, of the Findlay, was taken into the Pittsburg shops today for a general overhauling.

Pittsburg Engineer M. O'Brien has been granted a week's vacation, which he will spend visiting friends in several cities.

Master Mechanic B. Fitzpatrick, who had been suffering with a severe cold for a few days, is attending to business again.

The Nickel Plate's westbound passenger train No. 5 ran in two sections last night. Travel on that line is very heavy at present.

Enoch Cox's condition was not so favorable this morning. He suffers intensely and is unable to take and retain any food. He is afflicted with gastritis.

F. Rothenberger, a tinner, resumed his place in the Pittsburg shops this morning. He had been looking after some private business for several days.

J. M. Hagbart, a brother to General Manager J. H. P. Hagbart, of the Grand Rapids, spent a few hours in the city last evening. He was en route to Pittsburg.

John Edelman this morning resumed his place in the Pittsburg car shops, having returned from Peru, where private business engaged his attention several days.

Last evening Frank Thompson resigned a position at the Pittsburg shops which he held for seven years. He will conduct a grain and feed store on East Wayne street.

John Merrett, night caller at the Nickel Plate round house, has disposed of his bicycle and purchased a pony, which he rides when out calling engine crews.

James Oliver, jr., a machinist, has returned to the city and resumed his place in the Wabash shops. He was at Andrews for a month, working in the shops.

Chief Train Dispatcher Sullivan, on the Wabash, who has been very ill with typhoid fever recently, has so far recovered that he was at his office in Peru yesterday.

Capt. J. C. Kensill, the well known boilermaker, was operated upon this morning for abscess on the lower jaw. Dr. Van Buskirk performed the operation.

George Mannuller is in the Wabash railway hospital at Peru, suffering from the effects of a fall from a box car last Wednesday at Huntington. He is a brakeman.

Fred Tolker, night baggagemaster of the Pittsburg; George Duryee, train baggagemaster, and W. W. Wagner, dispatcher of the Grand Rapids, are in Whitley county hunting squirrels today.

The American Tourist association's special vestibuled train of Pullman palace sleeping and dining cars will start on the tour of all Mexico from St. Louis on January 18, 1898, via the Iron Mountain route.

John Slater, who was reported to be off duty arranging for the presence here of the Prince of Wales on corner stone day, was merely attending court as a witness. He resumed his place at the forge this morning.

The announcement of the Wabash's new time card is anxiously awaited. It will probably go into effect on Sunday, November 14, and rumor says that the changes will be greater than those of any time card in the past three years.

The understanding is that at the meeting of the passenger officials of roads in the Central Traffic association territory in Chicago next week the interchangeable mileage ticket will be so modified as to give the traveling salesmen less occasion for complaint.

While the Bass Foundry and Machine works has received no very large contracts for forgings and castings for several days, small orders have been so numerous that the aggregate is considerable and every department of the shop has about all it can do.

The Bass Foundry and Machine works is today shipping the material for a large stand pipe to Astoria, Ill., and next week several boilermakers will go to that city to erect the tank. The company has just completed a large stand pipe at Winamac, Ind.

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois on Monday received the first of the five heavy freight engines the Pittsburg locomotive works are building for that road. The engine proper weighs 176,000 pounds and is guaranteed to haul seventy-five loaded cars over the road.

Charles Thompson, a sawfiler, is lying ill at the home of his uncle, William Hamilton, on Butler street. Mr. Thompson has been employed for some time in a factory at Huntington. He was formerly employed in the Olds Wagon works, where he served an apprenticeship.

Peru Journal: "Supt. E. A. Gould is in St. Louis conferring with the general officials of the Wabash regarding the new change of time for a week from next Sunday. So far no changes have been made public. The officials are also arranging for their annual inspection tour, which is to be held this week."

John McKenna, who was for twenty-five years the master mechanic of the Indiana, Decatur and Western, retiring from the latter position two years ago, has been fortunate in owning a farm at Peru, Ind., on which three oil wells have been sunk and are bringing to him about $1,500 per week.

The employes of Rhinesmith & Simonson and the Anthony Wayne Manufacturing company were paid today. The amount of the disbursement was much greater than it has been for many months. The November earnings of the men will be still greater, if the present condition at the shops continues throughout the month.

Wabash Tribune: "Fred Conner, who was injured in the Wabash railroad yards at Fort Wayne a week ago, arrived in this city yesterday and is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Conner. Since the accident Fred has been confined in the railroad hospital at Peru, to which place he returned today."

Yard Brakeman Baker, whose misfortune was mentioned in these columns a few days ago, is in a critical condition. A telephone message from the St. Joseph's hospital at 2 o'clock this afternoon stated that Mr. Baker's condition was apparently unchanged from yesterday and that it was impossible to say what the result of his injuries would be.

Western roads have again failed to reach an agreement regarding the withdrawal of unauthorized freight rates. The Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf road refuses to discuss a settlement of the points at issue, except on the basis of it being allowed differentials, which the other roads refuse to entertain. There seems to be no means of ending the deadlock which now exists.

In its new passenger train the Lake Shore has introduced a feature which will be appreciated by patrons of the road. The dining car is divided into three compartments, one of the compartments having six tables, with a seating capacity of eighteen people. Each of the other two compartments is constructed in such a manner that two or four persons can dine privately.

In tearing up a siding on the Straitsville division of the Baltimore and Ohio the other day, the section men discovered that several of the rails had been made in 1863. Subsequent investigation revealed the fact that these rails were part of a lot that were bought in England during the war at a cost of $175 per ton in gold. The rails were still in very fair condition, and for light motive power would last ten years longer.

John Sebastian, general passenger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, says he is confident that within a short time, with the aid of the executive officers, an agreement will be put in effect by the Western roads which will effectually and permanently stop the paying of excessive commissions on through tickets. For a long time the passenger rate situation has been badly shattered, owing to the payment of these excessive commissions by certain roads.

It has created some surprise that the Wabash, after asking for bids on twenty-five new engines from the several locomotive works, after receiving the bids, postponed ordering them, and it has leaked out that the bids from locomotive works were so much higher than previous ones of late and so near together as to make it evident that the locomotive works had formed a pool, consequently General Manager Ramsey concluded to let the matter rest for the present.

Harry C. Waite, son of the late C. C. Waite, for years president of the Columbus and Hocking Valley road, has been appointed general yard master of the Columbus and Hocking Valley at Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Waite was educated for a civil engineer, but has a desire to begin railroading at the bottom and work up. A railway official who knows the young man says he shows marked ability in the railroad line and is anxious to make as prominent a mark in the railroad world as did his father.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

A new church at Auburn Junction will be dedicated Sunday, Nov. 14th.

Robert S. Irine, one of the pioneers of Elkhart county was fatally injured in a runaway accident yesterday.

The commissioners of Noble county, actuated by recent lawlessness in that section, have purchased two trained bloodhounds. Sheriff Simon of the same county has also purchased a bloodhound.

The board of school trustees of Peru has requested the city council to authorize the issue of $15,000 of school bonds, the money to be used in erecting a new school building. The proposition will be favorably acted upon.

Ex-Auditor Frank Horst, his former deputy, Frank Dills, and ex-Treasurer Reuben Hawvel, of De Kalb county, and sent to the penitentiary last winter in connection with the official crookedness in that county, were taken from Michigan City to Auburn this week to testify in the McIntosh conspiracy case.

John W. Talbot, a young attorney of South Bend, was arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods and held under bond. The goods in which he is interested are alleged to have been stolen from the Baltimore and Ohio road, near Walkerton, last September. Talbot is married and was formerly in the office of Mayor Maybury, of Detroit, Mich.

The latest move in the controversy between the Dieterich natural gas syndicate and the city of Peru came yesterday, an injunction from the United States district court being served on Mayor Durand and members of the city council, restraining the city from enforcing the new gas ordinance recently passed. The case will be heard at Indianapolis on Wednesday of next week.

Profound astonishment was caused at Valparaiso yesterday by the announcement that Herbert J. Fish, one of the wealthiest and most prominent farmers of that county, living near the city, had attempted suicide by shooting himself. Mr. Fish is forty years old, and a widower. He left letters, but relatives refuse to divulge the contents. He was a prominent candidate for the Valparaiso postoffice.

Judge Horace Corbin, the oldest member of the bar of Marshall county, died suddenly at Plymouth yesterday. He was born in western New York in 1830 and removed to Indiana in the early '50s. For many years he had been a leading lawyer and at one time judge of the circuit and also the first mayor of Plymouth. He was an uncompromising democrat and took an active part in the last campaign for the silver cause. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, a Knight Templar and a member of the St. Thomas Episcopal church. He leaves a widow and five sons. The funeral to be held Saturday.

This has not been a good fall for clothing. Why? It has been too warm, too dry and dusty. But, never the less, we have sold more overcoats at $15 to $25 than we have in any one season before. How we account for it. People who two years ago would smile at the idea of buying an overcoat ready made, now walk in our store and say, "Let me see the best overcoat in the house." If the cloth in the suit suits them, and it fits, they buy it. We do not have to talk about the tailor work on the coat. Our clothing in the past three years has advertised itself.
